Introduction to SCSEP Data Collection Handbook Revision 4

This Handbook contains revised guides for each of the four data collection forms. The guides, which follow the order of the forms, provide descriptions of the data elements, explanations of how best to capture and record the required information, and discussions of how the data elements relate to the SCSEP performance measures. Some of the descriptions and explanations contain additional comments. These comments do not always pertain directly to completing the data field but will give the user a fuller understanding of the data element. The data elements contained in the four hard copy forms must be reported for all participants in the specified format regardless of whether a grantee uses the SCSEP Web Data Collection System (WebDCS). Therefore, all grantees and sub-grantees, including those that are using their own data collection systems, will need to be familiar with and follow the information in this Handbook.

The Handbook uses various terms to describe the SCSEP data collection and reporting system:

- “SPARQ” -- The overall automated system (data entry application, upload process, national database, and reports). SPARQ is the acronym for the “SCSEP Performance and Results QPR” system.
- “SPARQ 1” -- The original environment in which all grantees submit quarterly data through xml files.
- “DCS” -- The “Data Collection System” or “DCS” is the desktop data entry application that most grantees used in SPARQ 1.
- “Non-DCS users” -- Grantees that use their own automated system and submit the required data through Excel spreadsheets.
- “SPARQ 2” -- The new web-based version of the data collection and reporting system.
- “WebDCS” -- The web-based data entry application that replaces the original DCS in SPARQ 2.
- “Non-WebDCS users” -- Grantees that continue to use their own automated systems and submit data on a specified schedule to SPARQ 2.
- “SPARQ 2.0” -- The first release of SPARQ 2, which contains the core functionality.
- “SPARQ 2.X” -- Subsequent releases of SPARQ, which contain additional functionality.

There are “Topics” at various points throughout the guides. These topics provide more extended discussion of important issues for the data collection and reporting system. Topics generally address broad concepts, such as: what “exit” means, when follow-ups must be completed, and what services may be provided before assigning an applicant to community service. Data elements or topics that have been revised or are new since the third revision of the Handbook are so indicated in the first column. All relevant information that was contained in the postings on the SCSEP Ask the Experts Internet forum through May 19, 2006, has been incorporated into this revision of the Handbook. This revision also includes all relevant information from TEGl’s that have been issued since the last revision.

This revision of the Handbook includes information about all of the data elements that are in the OMB-approved hard copy forms. Following the format of the hard copy forms, data elements that are optional are shaded in gray. Unshaded fields are required in that they must be completed if appropriate. Asterisks are no longer used to denote required fields. Data elements that are newly active in the SPARQ 2 database are noted. Also noted are those data elements that are retroactive to July 1, 2005, and that must be entered into SPARQ 2 from existing hard copy forms.

NOTE: This revision of the Handbook contains descriptions of the data elements as they are to be entered into SPARQ 2. Users wishing guidance about data elements entered into SPARQ 1 should consult Revision 3 of the Handbook.

In addition, the Handbook references some of the edits in SPARQ 2 that control how and in what form data must be entered. For complete information on the requirements for the data system, users should see the SPARQ Users' Guide and other relevant information on the Mathematica Policy Research web site, <http://SCSEP.Mathematica-MPR.com>. For information on the management reports contained in SPARQ 2.0 and 2.X, users should see the revised SPARQ Management Reports Handbook, which is available on the SCSEP web page, <http://charteroakgroup.org/resources/scsep.shtml>.

The SCSEP Data Collection Handbook is also available at the SCSEP web page. The Handbook has a revision number and a date on the bottom of each page. Neither the hard copy version of the Handbook that users may have been given nor the version included in the data collection software may contain the most up-to-date version of the guides. However, the version on the Internet will always be the most recent, and users are encouraged to check the Internet regularly. Additions and clarifications to the Handbook will be posted on the SCSEP Ask the Experts Internet forum as they occur.

This Handbook is designed to be printed in landscape format, back-to back, "military" style, that is, with the binding along the top. The Handbook has been organized so that the text for each guide starts on an upper page when the Handbook is opened flat, affording the reader a view of two full pages. Where possible, breaks were inserted at the end of each bottom page to avoid having material run over to the next page. To facilitate this full two-page view, extra pages have been inserted where required. These pages are identified as being intentionally left blank. The Charter Oak Group web site contains the entire printable Handbook.

Form Heading 1 Form Heading 2 Form Heading 3 (Revised)	Sub-Grantee Local Site Case Worker	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • WebDCS will identify grantee and sub-grantee from the log in. It is not necessary for the user to input either the name or the code. • You may use the local site if the sub-grantee has multiple sites and the name of the case worker, if applicable. You will be able to use these two fields and the sub-grantee field as filters when you generate the management reports. • WebDCS users can access the fields for local site and case worker in the row above the participant name in the participant or enrollment screens. These fields are specific to the enrollment. • The information should be captured now on the hard copy forms, however, so that it can be entered into the application when the fields are available. Those grantees using their own automated systems may begin using these fields immediately.
Topic 1 (New)	Data elements newly active in SPARQ 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All of the data elements in the latest version of the OMB-approved hard copy forms are active in the SPARQ 2 database. (A few of these fields will not be active in the first release of SPARQ 2.) The hard copy forms can be found on the Charter Oak Group’s SCSEP web page at http://www.charteroakgroup.com/resources/scsep.shtml. Data that were captured only on the hard copy forms because the fields were missing in SPARQ 1 can now be entered into SPARQ 2. In a few instances (all of which are noted in the discussion of the data elements in this Handbook), the fields on the WebDCS screens are display only. This means that data are system-generated or supplied by some function other than direct data entry by the user. • The following fields that were not active in SPARQ 1 are now active in SPARQ 2. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Field 6a has been added to record the participant’s e-mail address. ○ Field 6b has been added to record emergency contact information for the participant. ○ Total includable family income is recorded solely in field 14. ○ Field 17a has been added to display change in sub-grantee. ○ Field 40a has been added to record date of orientation. ○ Field 40b has been added to record date of last physical. ○ Field 40c has been added to record date of last IEP. ○ Field 40d has been added to record up to three job interest codes for the participant. ○ Field 43a has been added to record that the participant has died after exiting from the program. This field will prevent any further communications from being sent to the participant's address. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ All data for recertification are recorded solely in fields 44-51.

Topic 2	Modifying OMB-approved data collection forms	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● You are free to modify the forms to add data elements, but if you do so, you must remove all of the OMB information and the SCSEP form numbers from those modified forms. OMB and SCSEP have authorized only the collection of the data on the approved forms. ● If you modify the forms, you must retain all of the data elements on the official versions. To facilitate data entry, you may wish to keep the elements in the same order as the data application. You could also use the official forms and collect the additional information on a separate form.
Topic 3	Ineligible applicants: When is an application required?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Sub-grantees and local projects are required to take an application from any individual who indicates a desire to apply – even if project staff persons believe that the individual is ineligible. However, sub-grantees and local projects may provide information about the program and its eligibility requirements without taking an application if the individual is only making an inquiry and does not ask to make application. ● If someone calls and inquires about the program, it is entirely appropriate to inform the individual of the eligibility requirements and to ask if the individual thinks he or she is eligible and would like to proceed with an application. It is even appropriate to assist the individual with calculating his or her income to determine whether the individual's 6-month annualized income meets the guidelines. You must, however, be willing to take an application at the individual's request even if your preliminary discussion suggests that the individual is ineligible. ● In addition to protecting applicants' rights, taking applications from ineligible applicants may help to document unmet needs and provide a basis for Congress to expand the program.
Topic 4	Ineligible applicants: Why you might want to take an application	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Field 11a of Section B of the QPR reports non-SCSEP-eligible applicants who were placed in employment by the sub-grantee. Such activity is authorized if provided for in the MOU with the local One-Stop system. See discussion of field 36d. Although these placements do not count toward the SCSEP placement goal, the QPR acknowledges sub-grantees' efforts as One-Stop partners. The QPR can only report these non-eligible placements if applications are taken. ● When completing an application for an ineligible participant, it is not necessary to have the individual sign the certification if you are certain that the applicant accepts the eligibility determination and will not challenge it. Eliminating the signature may facilitate your taking applications over the phone for ineligible applicants where you plan to provide placements. See Topic 27 and the discussion of field 32 below.

Topic 5 (Revised)	Entering N/A or “dummy” data into the data system	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do not enter anything into the data system except valid data. If you cannot obtain the information – or even if you think the field should not have any data in it – just leave the field blank. This is very important to the integrity of the data system and to the ability to extract data. There are many situations where the national office needs to know if someone has a valid name, address, Social Security number, etc. If you enter N/A or make up a value, SPARQ will wind up selecting that record; and it will then be necessary to find some way to manually delete it when the invalid data are discovered. This happened extensively with the customer satisfaction survey samples when sub-grantees put N/A or some other invalid value into critical fields like contact person name or FEIN. • SPARQ 2 will prevent you from entering invalid values into most fields.
Topic 6 (New)	Data errors in SPARQ 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • WebDCS users will be prevented from entering invalid values into most fields, and many errors in data quality will be flagged before the user leaves the screen on which the errors have occurred. All other data quality problems for an enrollment will be noted in the Enrollment Data Quality Problems (EDQP) on the main page of the WebDCS for that participant before you close the record you are working on. • The DQR continues to provide a listing of all data quality problems for a sub-grantee. Records will be identified by participant last name and the last four digits of the Social Security number. Participation ID numbers will no longer be required to fix errors. • SPARQ 2 has a new system of classifying data errors. Records will continue to be rejected by the QPR only if they contain serious errors affecting eligibility or performance. For WebDCS users, most of these rejections will be flagged at the screen level and will prevent you from leaving the screen without fixing them. Those that cannot be detected at the screen level will be noted in the Enrollment Data Quality Problems (EDQP) on the main page. For non-WebDCS users, all rejections and warnings will appear in the DQR. • All errors other than rejections will be designated as warnings. In addition to new error messages identifying the source of the error, the warnings will include a priority number based on the importance of the error: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Warning Priority 1, like a reject, affects eligibility or performance. In this instance, although the entire record will not be rejected, credit for one or more measures is affected. ○ Warning Priority 2 affects a QPR measure other than one of the performance measures in Section E or affects a SCSEP program requirement.

Participant Form Guide

Number	Element Name/ Topic	Element Description/Explanation Plus Additional Comments
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Warning Priority 3 involves data elements that are required but that are not reported on the QPR. ● Warnings and error messages are not generated for most optional fields.
Topic 7 (New)	Missing data warnings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● As discussed in Topic 6 above, the system of warnings has been substantially revised in SPARQ 2. Many of the old missing data error messages have been deleted. However, if a field is left blank when it could have had data entered, you may receive a Warning Priority 3 (the lowest level of warning) advising you that the field has no value in it. ● You should never put made-up data or N/A into any field. If you do not have the data and cannot or do not intend to get them, leave the field blank and ignore the missing data warning. As long as you do not get a rejection message, you can ignore any data warning where you know that you have done everything you can to correct or complete the data.
1 (Revised)	Last name	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● A last name (along with a Social Security number and application date) is required to create a valid record in SPARQ. ● The fields for the applicant's first and last name will be used to mail letters and the customer satisfaction survey.
2 (Revised)	First name	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● A first name is not required for a valid record. If the applicant only uses one name, list that name as the last name and leave this field blank. ● Because the applicant's first and last name will be used for mailing letters and the customer satisfaction survey, it is essential to enter a first name for all applicants except those who use only one name.
3	Middle initial	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● You should leave this field blank if the individual does not have a middle initial.
4 (Revised)	Social Security Number	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Because the Social Security number serves as a unique identifier, it is necessary to record the Social Security number even if the applicant is determined ineligible. The Social Security number will also be used to obtain the UI wage records for determining entered employment and calculating the average wage measure once these records become available for all grantees. ● Records without a Social Security number will be rejected by SPARQ. SPARQ will also reject records that contain the same Social Security number as that used for a currently active participant. This will prevent the entry of duplicate participations and incorrect Social Security numbers. Non-WebDCS users have access to the participant search function in SPARQ so they can determine whether an applicant is currently enrolled. ● If the applicant does not have a Social Security number, do not make one up. Instead, contact Mathematica and it will provide a proxy number that you may use.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All data saved or uploaded to SPARQ are encrypted using Secure Socket Layer (SSL) while being transmitted over the Internet. The DOL server also stores Personally Identifying Information (PII), including name, address and Social Security number, in an encrypted format to ensure confidentiality.
Topic 8 (New)	Dual enrollments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A dual enrollment occurs when the same participant is enrolled with two grantees (or sub-grantees) at the same time. Dual enrollments are prohibited because they distort performance, resulting in some grantees getting credit for enrollments or placements that they do not deserve. They also create the possibility that participants will receive more hours of community service than they should, that grantees will exceed the permissible limits on training dollars, or that grantees will have to falsify data to enter the dual enrollments into the data system. • Because dual enrollments are not permitted in SCSEP, SPARQ will not permit WebDCS users to create an enrollment for a participant who is currently active in SPARQ. Non-WebDCS users are required to use the participant search function in SPARQ before they enter an enrollment into their own database. If a non-WebDCS user submits a dual enrollment to SPARQ, it will be rejected. The non-WebDCS user must then use field 6a(iv) of the Exit Form to exit the participant and end the dual enrollment. • There may be situation where you know that a prior enrollment has ended but the termination of the prior enrollment by a non-WebDCS user has not yet been submitted to SPARQ. In this case, you may contact Mathematica to have the prior exit entered into SPARQ. This will permit you to enter the new enrollment.
5	Home phone number	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant has no home phone, try to obtain a number where a message can be left with a friend, neighbor or family member. If none, leave blank. Do not enter N/A or dummy data into this field.
6	Mailing address	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the applicant does not have a residence, try to obtain an address at which the applicant can receive mail. The mailing address fields will be used to mail letters and the customer service survey. • Be sure to enter the information as you want it to appear on the envelope. County will not be used for mailing.
6(a)	Number and street; apt. #; PO Box	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the address has a rural route number or post office box rather than a street, use field 6(a) to record that information. If there are both a street and a post office box, record both in field 6(a).

6(c)	County	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Applicants must reside in the state in which they apply unless the state has an approved cross-border agreement with another grantee, but there is no requirement that applicants reside in the county in which they apply. • County is listed on the form solely for planning and equitable distribution purposes. It will not be used for mailing.
6a (New)	Participant's e-mail address	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This optional field may assist you in contacting the participant.
6b (New)	Emergency contact	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • These optional fields may assist you in contacting the participant.
7	State of residence if different from mailing address	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Residence is defined as an individual's primary dwelling place or address as demonstrated by appropriate documentation. No minimum length of residence is required. • A homeless individual is considered a resident of the state in which he or she is applying. • Grantees may accept residents of other states if there is an approved multi-state agreement.
8	Homeless	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A homeless individual is one who lacks a fixed, regular, adequate night-time residence; and any individual who has a primary night-time residence that is a publicly or privately operated shelter for temporary accommodation; an institution providing temporary residence for individuals intended to be institutionalized; or a public or private place not designated for or ordinarily used as a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings. This definition does not include a person imprisoned or detained under an act of Congress or state law. • Participants who may temporarily be sleeping in a shack or in their vehicle while away from home should not, as a result of that alone, be recorded as homeless.
8a (Revised)	Urban/rural	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may use the definitions of urban and rural that you currently use for your state plan. • For your information, the Census definition of "urban" is an Urbanized Area (density of 1,000 people per square mile and a minimum population of 50,000) or an Urban Cluster (densely settled area of at least 2,500 people). • If a state uses a definition of urban that is different from that used by the Census, the grantee must inform all of its sub-grantees as well as all national grantees operating in that state and must require that the state definition be applied consistently. The national office should also be informed of the state definitions. • Urban/rural is being captured so that grantees will have this information for the Equitable Distribution Report and the Title V Coordination Plan.

9 (Revised)	Application date for enrollment or re-enrollment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter the date on which the initial application was filled out. If the information is provided over several different dates, enter the first date on which information is recorded. SPARQ will reject any record that does not have an application date. • Since SPARQ 2 has a new section for recertification, participant age, which is used both for eligibility and the most-in-need measure, will now be calculated from the eligibility determination date rather than the application date for any records entered after the date of migration.
10	Date of birth	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Since age is a SCSEP eligibility requirement, this information is required for all applicants. SPARQ will reject any record where you have determined an applicant under the age of 55 to be eligible.
Topic 9 (Revised)	Timeframe for determining age and other characteristics for performance measures	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For purposes of the QPR and the performance measures, age and other relevant characteristics, like poverty level, are determined at the time of enrollment. The statute and regulations require you to give priority of service to those 60 and over if you have more applicants than you have slots. This can only be measured at the time you decide which eligible applicants to enroll and which to place on the waiting list. Someone who was under 60 at the time of enrollment will never be counted in the most in need category. • Because the performance system determines characteristics at the time of enrollment, you may not update any fields on the Participant Form, other than contact information and those for recertification (fields 44-51), in order to reflect changes in the participant’s characteristics.
11 (Revised)	Number in family	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter the number of individuals in the applicant’s family. A “family” is defined in TEGL 13-04 as husband, wife and dependent children; parent or guardian and dependent children; or husband and wife. (If the applicant is claimed as a dependant on someone else’s tax return, you must use the broader CPS definition of family. See Topics 11 and 12 below.) Count only current family members living together. Do not include deceased spouses or separated spouses who are living separately. In addition, consistent with 20 CFR 641.500, an applicant with a disability may be treated as a family of one for income eligibility determination purposes. Family-of-one status does not extend to other members of the applicant’s family. • Documentation is required for all applicants. • Do not use this field for recording family size at recertification. All recertification data are entered in fields 44-51. Field 11 will always reflect the family size at the time of initial enrollment. Do not write over this field.

Participant Form Guide

Number	Element Name/ Topic	Element Description/Explanation Plus Additional Comments
Topic 10 (New)	Adult child living with applicant	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TEGL 13-04 defines a family as a parent and dependent child living together. If the child is not a minor and is not claimed as a dependant on the applicant's taxes, then the child is not part of the applicant's family and the child's income is not includable. If the child is a dependant, then the child's income, including any pension, is includable as part of the family income.
Topic 11 (New)	Participant claimed as dependant by another person; length of the penalty	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In cases where a participant or applicant has been claimed as a dependant on the tax return of another individual, the participant or applicant must be treated as a member of that individual's family for the next year. If the participant or applicant claims that circumstances have changed and that he or she is no longer a dependant, the participant or applicant will have to produce a new tax return to document that he or she is no longer a dependant.
Topic 12	Counting family members when the applicant is claimed as a dependant	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • According to TEGL 13-04, if the applicant is claimed as a dependant on someone else's tax return, you must include in the applicant's family all individuals currently residing with the applicant who are related by blood, marriage or adoption. • You need not include these family members if the applicant lives independently of them; pays all her own expenses, including rent and utilities; does not share meals; and has separate living quarters, including a separate entrance. The mere fact that the applicant pays rent and is financially independent is not sufficient if the applicant does not have separate living quarters.
12	Receiving public assistance?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the applicant is receiving any form of public assistance, check the appropriate box(es) b-g. If the applicant is receiving some form of public assistance other than those listed in boxes b-g, check box h and specify the type of assistance. If the applicant is not receiving any form of public assistance, check box a. • This data element applies to the applicant only, not the entire family.
13	Employed prior to participation?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter 1 if the participant was employed at or prior to the time of participation. The participant will provide this information. Documentation is not required.
Topic 13	Employment prior to participation, timeframe for determining	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The determination of employment status is a Common Measures requirement. It only applies to eligible applicants who are assigned to community service. The point of determination is the date of participation, which would be the date of assignment to community service. The determination is complicated, however, by the SCSEP requirement that only unemployed applicants are eligible for SCSEP services. ● An applicant who is employed at the time of eligibility determination may or may not be considered employed prior to participation for the Common Measures if this person was determined eligible but not assigned to community service for several days or more. However, an applicant who is employed at the time of eligibility determination is ineligible by virtue of being employed so the issue of employed prior to participation would not arise. ● As a practical matter, since only unemployed applicants are eligible for SCSEP and you are going to need employment status at the time you make the eligibility determination, you will be able to decide at the time of eligibility determination whether an eligible applicant meets the Common Measures definition of employed at or in the seven days prior to participation. In those rare instances where the participant was employed at the time of application but will shortly be unemployed, e.g., the applicant has received a layoff notice, you may delay the eligibility determination until the applicant is unemployed. If you assign the applicant immediately, you would code the applicant 2. If for some reason you were unable to assign the applicant within 7 days of the date you made the eligibility determination, you would then go back at the time of assignment and code the applicant 3. Such situations will be so rare, however, that as a general rule, the determination of employment status can be made at the time of eligibility determination. (It should be noted that an applicant with a lay-off notice is, in most circumstances, presumed to be job ready, and should therefore be referred to the One-Stop system.)

14	Total includable family income for last six months, annualized	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use this field to record the six-month annualized income for all new applicants. • Do not use this field for recording income at recertification. All recertification data are entered in fields 44-51. Field 14 will always reflect the income at the time of initial enrollment. Do not write over this field. • Family income is used to establish eligibility. It includes the income of current family members identified in field 11 above. Sub-grantees may use any income worksheet they wish for capturing and calculating income. Although the worksheet is not part of the database, the worksheet must be retained in the file for all applicants. • The procedure for validating income for eligibility purposes is set out in TEGL 13-04. There are no exceptions to this rule. You must calculate the includable family income for the 6 months prior to application and annualize it. If the applicant is ineligible because of income in the six-month period that is not truly typical, the applicant will have to wait until that atypical income drops out of the six-month calculation and reapply at that time.
Topic 14	Effect of public assistance on eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For new applications starting January 7, 2005, TEGL 13-04 governs eligibility. Under the TEGL, public assistance is excluded from income for purposes of SCSEP eligibility. However, the applicant must still meet the income limit with regard to all includable family income for the annualized 6 months prior to the eligibility determination. Receipt of public assistance does not make an applicant automatically eligible. • Furthermore, the determination of a state or local welfare agency to treat an applicant as a family of one is not determinative of family size for SCSEP purposes. Under TEGL 13-04, if the applicant has family members who are included for income determination purposes, you will exclude public assistance benefits received by the applicant and the applicant's family members, but you must count the includable income of all other family members.

Topic 15	Exclusion from income: foster care and other types of child support payments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TEGL 13-04 excludes from income all forms of child support, including payments made to an applicant by the government for the care of children who are not the applicant's own children, such as foster care or adoptive grandparent's subsidies. The exclusion also applies to all Social Security payments that an applicant receives for the benefit of a child for whom he or she serves as legal guardian. All such payments are considered for the benefit of the children, not the applicant. If the payments are considered public assistance for the applicant's own children, they would also be excluded. TEGL 13-04 explicitly excludes child support and welfare payments. • If the payments are excluded, the applicant may still count the children as members of the applicant's family for purposes of establishing family size and income limits only if the dependent children are related by blood, marriage, or adoption.
Topic 16	Exclusion from income: wages or stipends from employment and training	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is the intent of TEGL 13-04 to exclude from family income any wages or stipends received from any employment and training program by the applicant or the applicant's family members. This exclusion applies to SCSEP regular program wages, OJE wages (even if paid by the employer), and Section 502(e) wages, as well as to stipends paid by other government programs, such as the VA's "compensated work therapy." • This exclusion also applies to Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA). TRA is provided to workers who have lost their jobs due to foreign imports. A condition of receiving TRA benefits is that the claimant be enrolled in training provided by Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA). Both OWB 04-05 and TEGL 13-04 exclude from income for purposes of SCSEP eligibility all stipends from employment and training programs. Therefore, TRA benefits should be excluded. This exclusion applies to all new applications and recertifications effective July 1, 2004. • It is highly unlikely, however, that a recipient of TRA benefits would be otherwise eligible for enrollment in SCSEP. First, TRA recipients typically have extensive work histories and thus are likely to be job ready. Second, to the extent that TRA recipients need retraining to become job ready, such training is provided by the TAA program. Although there may be exceptions, most TRA recipients do not need and would not benefit from the type of training provided by community service

Topic 18	Exclusion from income: lottery winnings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consistent with the Census and the CPS, the main rule for determining whether to include certain income for eligibility purposes is based on whether the income is received on a regular basis. If lottery winnings are collected in one lump sum as a one-time payment, then the winnings are not considered income for SCSEP eligibility. However, if the winnings are collected from periodic payments and the applicant receives the income on a regular basis – annually, monthly, bi-weekly, every two months, etc. – then the winnings are considered income for purposes of SCSEP eligibility.
Topic 19 (Revised)	Deduction of Medicare premiums from Social Security and government annuities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You deduct Medicare premiums from the income of the applicant and all family members, including the applicant's spouse, age 65 and over. (You do not deduct the Medicare premium if an applicant or family member under age 65 is receiving Social Security retirement or SSDI benefits.) You include as SCSEP income the net Social Security benefits, in addition to any other includable income as defined in TEGL 13-04. • If an applicant is 65 at the time of application or a participant is 65 at the time of recertification, you deduct Medicare premiums from the Social Security income for the entire 6-month income period. The Medicare deduction is NOT limited only to those months during which the applicant or participant was 65. • Medicare Part D premiums for an applicant 65 and over should also be deducted from the applicant's Social Security benefits when computing income regardless of whether the premiums are automatically deducted from the applicant's Social Security benefits or the applicant chooses to pay the premiums privately. • You also exclude from income for SCSEP eligibility purposes the amount of Medicare premiums deducted from the government retirement annuity of an applicant who receives the annuity in lieu of Social Security benefits. • Medicare benefits, regardless of the age of the recipient, are not considered income for SCSEP eligibility purposes.
Topic 20 (New)	Exclusion from income: reverse mortgage payments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Payments received by an applicant under a reverse mortgage are considered to be similar to capital gains and thus are excluded from income for purposes of SCSEP eligibility.

Topic 21 (New)	Exclusion from income: payments from medical insurance reimbursement plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> If an applicant receives reimbursement for medical expenses, including health insurance premiums, co-payments, and deductibles, as part of an employer-provided pension plan, those payments are excluded from income for SCSEP eligibility purposes, provided that the applicant only receives the payment if he or she incurs the expenses. Any payments in excess of expenses incurred are includable as income, as are the pension payments themselves.
Topic 22 (Revised)	Inclusion of interest income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> TEGL 13-04 requires that you include all interest income. There is no exclusion. OWB 95-05 has been superseded by TEGL 13-04 effective January 7, 2005.
Topic 23 (New)	Documenting Social Security income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> An applicant can obtain a Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefit verification letter by using one of the following methods: making the request online at http://www.socialsecurity.gov/beve; calling SSA toll-free at 1-800-772-1213, or visiting a local SSA office. This last method is often the quickest. If there is a delay in obtaining the verification letter, you may use a properly labeled bank statement to verify the net amount of Social Security benefits received by an applicant who is 65 or over. Applicants under age 65 are not entitled to a deduction for Medicare payments so the bank statement might not be sufficient for some younger applicants, e.g., those receiving SSDI. The applicant's bank statement may also not suffice to establish whether another family member is receiving Social Security benefits. If there is any doubt, you should accept the bank statement as provisional documentation while the applicant produces a statement from the SSA.
Topic 24 (New)	Documenting income for farmers and other self-employed individuals before tax returns are available	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Farmers and other self-employed applicants may not have official proof of income until they file their tax returns. You may use self-attestation, based on the applicant's own figures, until the tax documents are available. At that time, you must verify the income information provided by the applicant. You must inform the applicant that falsification of eligibility information is cause for immediate termination. When accepting self-attestation, you should also require a copy of the prior year's tax return. The applicant should be able to satisfactorily explain any substantial changes in expected income from the prior year.

Topic 25 (Revised)	Documentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Documentation is required only for items that determine eligibility and for veteran's status. It is not required for participant characteristics, including those that relate to preferences. If an applicant is claiming disability for purposes of income eligibility (a disabled applicant is treated as a family of one), documentation is required. Acceptable documentation would include proof of a government disability determination. If no such formal determination has been made, you may accept a doctor's certification. If the applicant is not claiming disability for purposes of income eligibility, then disability is an EO item, and disclosure is voluntary. In that case, documentation is not required. See field 26 below. • If you are unable to make copies when taking an application, TEGL 13-04 permits you to document the sources that were relied on to establish eligibility. You should create a form to use for documenting income and other eligibility factors. Both the applicant and the eligibility reviewer must sign the form. Required information includes: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Name of reviewer 2. Date of review 3. Title or descriptive name of source documents 4. Other pertinent information • If an applicant is claiming status as a family of one because of disability, you must retain a copy of the appropriate medical documentation even if you do not have a copier.
Topic 26 (New)	Retention of case files, financial records and other documentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • According the grants office of DOL, all required documentation, both fiscal and programmatic, must be retained for three program years after the end of the program year in which the document was generated. For participants who enter unsubsidized employment after exiting the program, this means three program years after the end of the program year in which all follow-up activity is ended. • If you are required to have a signed IEP or waiver form in the file, you must retain it for the specified retention period. If you are missing documentation, you must take reasonable steps to recreate it or you risk audit/monitoring problems. If you do recreate documents, you should also make case notes to document what you have done.

Topic 27	Documentation for ineligible applicants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In general, you must document eligibility information for all applicants. For ineligible applicants, documentation is especially important if the applicant is unhappy with the eligibility determination and may wish to contest it. There are circumstances, however, where an ineligible applicant readily accepts your determination and merely wishes to take advantage of other services, such as your assistance in job placement under an MOU. • If there truly is no doubt about the ineligibility and you are certain that the applicant will not later decide to challenge your determination, you do not have to document the applicant's age or income, nor do you have to obtain the applicant's signature on the Participant Form. You should, however, use the comment field to explain what you have done and why. Because of the potential for misunderstanding, you should also require that the eligibility determination be made by the sub-grantee's director rather than a staff person.
Topic 28 (Revised)	Maintaining participant case files; access to files	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You need not maintain all case notes in hard copy; electronic case notes are acceptable. A case manager must take detailed notes that include the date and her/his name. Paper records will be required for the data elements that are collected but not retroactively entered into SPARQ 2. You will also have to retain hard copies of any documents requiring signature and any documents that are not included in SPARQ. • It is critical that the case notes contain solid information and be attributable to someone for accountability. Sub-grantees should clearly understand that they must provide access to this electronic information to the grantee and to national office monitors. Furthermore, sub-grantees should be informed in their sub-contract agreements of their legal obligation to turn over their complete electronic records to the grantee at the time that they cease to be involved in the program or when the grantee otherwise requires them. • The grantee is legally responsible for ensuring complete and accurate data collection and for the maintenance of all required documentation. As a practical matter, the local site with the most contact with the client should maintain the primary case file with all the documentation. This will typically be the sub-grantee or the sub-sub-grantee. However, there should be agreements in place so that the sub-grantees know these files will be validated and that both the grantee and have the right to view the information in the files wherever they are maintained. The procedures for ensuring that information and documentation are properly collected, stored, and made accessible must be set forth in the grant application.

15	Family income at or below 100% of poverty level?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use the federal poverty level for the applicant’s family size and check the appropriate box. 16	Formerly a participant in any SCSEP project?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check “yes” if the applicant reports that he or she was ever enrolled in any SCSEP project. Re-enrollments are entirely new records. All dates are based on the conditions at the time of re-enrollment without regard to anything that occurred during the prior enrollment. The application date is the date of the application for re-enrollment, and the eligibility determination date is the date on which eligibility for re-enrollment was determined. • A new Participant Form is required for each new enrollment. The data system uses Social Security number and application date to distinguish multiple enrollments by the same individual. • Re-enrollment is at the discretion of the sub-grantee. Former participants do not have an automatic right to re-enroll. You should consider the circumstances of the participant’s prior exit from SCSEP, e.g., whether she was terminated for cause, and whether the participant is now job ready. Former participants who have had employment since leaving SCSEP may be presumed to be job ready and thus ineligible. They should be referred to the One-Stop center.
Topic 29 (Revised)	Re-enrolling a participant who quit unsubsidized employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • See Topic 2 of the Exit Form Guide in the revised Handbook for a discussion of the right of return and re-enrollment after placement. (The right of return is limited to participants who terminate to enter unsubsidized employment, fail to achieve a placement, and return to the program within 90 days of exit. Those who do not meet all three criteria for the right of return may seek to re-enroll.) Either option may be available depending upon whether the placement failed or succeeded, when the participant attempts to re-enter the program, why the participant is now unemployed, and whether the participant is job-ready. • If the participant quit her job, you will obviously want to take that into consideration in deciding whether to take the participant back into the program. If the participant quit with good cause, e.g., she was unsuited to the work or had a health problem, the participant would be entitled to exercise the right of return. Alternatively, you would be justified in exercising your discretion to permit her to re-enroll. Of course, before taking the participant back into the program, you will want to determine whether another placement would be suitable. For example, if the participant quit a job for which she lacked sufficient skill but she was otherwise job-ready, you should attempt to find her a job for which she was more suited. • On the other hand, if the participant quit under conditions that would have amounted to a failure to comply with her IEP, e.g., the job was suitable but she decided that she really did not

		want to work in any job, you might let her exercise the right of return only if she agreed to cooperate in the future and you could treat the quitting as a failure to accept a job referral under the IEP. You certainly would not have to permit her to re-enroll. Re-enrollment is discretionary; a participant who has been terminated for cause or has demonstrated an unwillingness to abide by the program's rules is not entitled to a second enrollment. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant has worked a sufficient time to demonstrate that she is job-ready, she would no longer be eligible for re-enrollment. Under most circumstances, a participant who has achieved a placement and is laid off for lack of work would be considered job-ready and would not be eligible for re-enrollment. This would not necessarily be true of a participant who worked a relatively short time, including one who was in temporary or seasonal work. • In contrast, a participant who is fired after 31 days in unsubsidized employment for inability to do the job could very well need additional community service training to be truly job-ready and would be appropriate for re-enrollment if the participant were financially eligible. • If you do decide to re-enroll a participant who left unsubsidized employment, you will have to count all income earned in unsubsidized employment in the six months prior to re-enrollment.
Topic 30 (New)	Reenrolling an applicant who previously withdrew from the waiting list	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You must take an application from anyone who wishes to apply for the program. You are supposed to apply priorities and preferences in deciding whom to enroll in situations where you do not have sufficient slots available for all applicants. You do not have to enroll applicants who cannot benefit from the program or who have failed to cooperate. However, an applicant's merely withdrawing from the waiting list and then reapplying would not ordinarily be grounds to refuse to serve an otherwise qualified applicant, especially if you have an opening or the applicant meets a priority or preference.
Topic 31 (Revised)	Entering re-enrollments into the data system	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Re-enrollment requires the completion of a new Participant Form and the creation of a new record in the database. SPARQ uses the participant's Social Security number and application date to distinguish the original enrollment from the re-enrollment. To create a re-enrollment, WebDCS users select an existing participant and create a new enrollment for that participant. • SPARQ 1 did not have the ability to capture new participant information at the time of re-enrollment in addition to the information already in the system. This problem has been fixed in SPARQ 2. When you create a new enrollment for an individual already in the database, only the basic participant information (name, date of birth, Social Security number, gender, ethnicity and race) will be carried over from the prior enrollment. You will enter all other information for this enrollment and it will be stored in the database separate from the original information.

17 (Revised)	Transferred from another project?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant was transferred into your project from another project, check “yes” and enter the name and code of the transferring grantee into the hard copy form. • If the participant is transferred from another project, the participant will not be included in the donor grantee’s performance measures until the participant exits from the recipient grantee’s project. At that time, the participant’s outcomes will be reflected in the performance measures of both the donor and recipient grantees. The data collection system will automatically track these outcomes. • SPARQ 2.X will contain a utility for changing entities – either transferring participants from one grantee to another or changing sub-grantees within a grantee. This utility will be used to transfer a single participant or multiple participants. When this utility is implemented for a transfer, it will create a new enrollment record for the recipient grantee that contains all of the exiting information about the participant. Field 17 will contain the name and code of the donor grantee and the application date (field 9) will contain the date of transfer. Because field 17 will be system-generated in the WebDCS, it is grayed out. • Until the change of entity utility is implemented, recipient grantees will continue to create new enrollments for transferred participants. There will be an administrative mechanism for recording all transfers that have taken place prior to SPARQ 2.X so that the donor grantees can receive appropriate credit for any placement outcomes.
Topic 32 (New)	Repeated transfer by sub-grantee of same participant between grantees	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A sub-grantee that works for two different grantees cannot routinely transfer a participant between the two grants. This is not allowed as a general practice because it distorts the performance measures. It results in a sub-grantee receiving credit for serving two participants and two grantees receiving credit for serving the same participant when no additional services have usually been provided. • In special circumstances, such as to avoid a premature exit when a grantee has unexpectedly run out of money at the end of the program year, participants may be moved to another grant. The movement of a participant from one grant to another is a transfer. It can only be done with the approval of both grantees (and the state grantee if the transfer is between two national grantees), as well as the federal project officer. It cannot be done unilaterally by the sub-grantee and must be limited to legitimate and unforeseen circumstances.

Participant Form Guide

Number	Element Name/ Topic	Element Description/Explanation Plus Additional Comments
Topic 33 (Revised)	Transfer vs. re-enrollment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Transfers between grantees are done for a variety of purposes: to reflect the results of a new competitive process for national grantees; to achieve equitable distribution; to avoid disruption of service; to simplify administration when the same host agency has participants assigned from multiple projects; and to allow national grantees to swap slots in the same or different states in order to make their operations more efficient. Transfers require the approval of the state grantee where the slots are located and the national office. • Transfers must be done by agreement of two grantees, not the unilateral action of a participant. When a participant has been transferred, the participant retains the status that he or she had at the transferring project. The participant does not have to be recertified (as long as the last eligibility check was within the last 12 months), nor is the participant subject to priority of service and preferences at the new project. A participant can always terminate from one project and seek to re-enroll in another project. However, such unilateral action requires a new application with an eligibility determination and is subject to the priority/preferences in effect at the new project at the time of application. • Typically, when a participant moves from the area, the participant terminates from the first project and seeks to re-enroll in the new project. However, nothing prevents the project that the participant is leaving from contacting the new project and seeing if a transfer is possible. The new project will not be able to accept the transfer if it does not have any slots available. Furthermore, it is not obligated to accept the transfer, and it may not be willing to accept the transfer if it has higher preference applicants on its waiting list. • When there has been a transfer (as opposed to an exit and a re-enrollment), the first project does not have a true exit and thus does not have an outcome that is reflected in its performance measures. The true exit occurs when the participant leaves the new project. At that time, both projects will have the outcome reflected in their QPRs. • During the competitive process for national grantees in PY 2005, no transfers may be made. When transfers are again permitted, SPARQ 2.X will contain a utility for implementing the transfer. See the discussion of field 17 above.

Participant Form Guide

Topic 34 (Revised)	Transfer vs. change of sub-grantee	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The change of a sub-grantee – whether for an entire project or for a single participant – is neither a transfer nor a re-enrollment. A transfer can only occur between grantees. A change of sub-grantees occurs within a single grantee. SPARQ 1 did not make provision for such a change. SPARQ 2.X will contain a utility for changing entities – either transferring participants from one grantee to another or changing sub-grantees within a grantee. This utility will be used to change the sub-grantee for a single participant or multiple participants. The grantee administrator will enter the codes of the donor and recipient grantees into the utility. SPARQ will then move the affected participation records from the donor sub-grantee to the recipient sub-grantee. • Until the change of entity utility is implemented in SPARQ 2.X, when only a single participant changes sub-grantee, the old sub-grantee will have to manually delete the participant’s record from its database once the new sub-grantee has entered the record. On the other hand, when a new sub-grantee is taking over the entire project from the old sub-grantee, the new sub-grantee can use the sub-grantee code of the old sub-grantee, thus ensuring that the records from the old sub-grantee are replaced by the records submitted by the new sub-grantee. • The hard copy Exit Forms contain a field (6(a)(iii)) for the donor grantee to indicate that it has lost a participant to the recipient grantee and to record the code of the recipient grantee. In the WebDCS, however, this field is grayed out. Field 17a of the Participant Form, which indicates the code of the donor grantee, will be system-generated by the change of entity utility in SPARQ 2.X. This field is also grayed out in the WebDCS. • For changes of sub-grantee that occur during a program year, the performance of the old sub-grantee will be merged with the performance of the new sub-grantee for all QPRs after the date of the change in sub-grantee and for the Final QPR. Although this may lead to some inaccuracy in the reported performance of the new sub-grantee for the balance of the program year, the QPR for the grantee, which is all that is used for official monitoring of performance, will be accurate. As long as everyone understands that the QPR for the new sub-grantee includes performance by the old sub-grantee, the new sub-grantee should not be unfairly evaluated.
Topic 35	Moving slots	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When you move a slot – whether for a transfer or a change of sub-grantee – you must inform the national office so it can adjust the slot table that is used in the QPR. If the move involves a transfer, you are required to obtain the national office's approval, as well as the approval of the state grantee where the slot was located.

Topic 36 (New)	“Orphan exiters”: follow-up for participants who exited before a sub-grantee has gone out of business	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Whenever a total change of sub-grantee occurs, there may be exited participants who are still in the follow-up period, which can last up to 12 months after the date of exit. Since these “orphan exiters” are not active participants, the question arises as to which entity will handle their follow-up once the old sub-grantee goes out of business. • You cannot transfer participants who exited from a closing sub-grantee. Once an exit has occurred for any reason, you can no longer enter a transfer into the database. • You can, however, use the batch change of entity function in SPARQ 2.X to have the new sub-grantee that is receiving all the active participants from the closing sub-grantee take responsibility for the orphan exiters as well. The easiest way for this to occur is for the receiving sub-grantee to receive the entire database of the closing sub-grantee. At that time, the database of the closing sub-grantee would be deregistered in SPARQ. • If more than one sub-grantee is receiving the active participants from the sub-grantee that is closing, you can still use the change of entity function to assign the orphan exiters to one or more of these recipient sub-grantees. • Alternatively, the grantee itself may perform the follow up activities for the orphan exiters. The grantee has read/write access to the databases of all of its sub-grantees. It could perform the follow-up and update the records of only the orphan exiters while assigning the active participants to one or more sub-grantees. The entire database for the old sub-grantee would be deregistered from SPARQ when the outcomes for the orphan exiters were final. • If you let the sub-grantee go out of business and do not make arrangements for some other entity to do the follow-up for the orphan exiters, you will lose any remaining outcome credit for exited participants. The national office strongly discourages this option because it will negatively affect performance at the grantee and nationwide levels.
17a (Revised)	Change of sub-grantee?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In the WebDCS, this field is grayed out. In SPARQ 2.X, if the participant has changed sub-grantee, the change of entity utility will reassign the affected participant records to the recipient sub-grantee and will indicate in this field the code of the donor sub-grantee. • Until the change of entity utility is implemented, sub-grantees can manually effect a change of sub-grantee in SPARQ but the change will not be reflected in field 17a. Topic 38 (New)	Interpreters, translation, and other services for LEP participants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • As recipients of federal grant money, grantees and sub-grantees are subject to Title VI of the Civil Rights Act. Title VI requires that LEP participants have meaningful access to all federally funded programs. You are required to identify LEP participants and to have a plan for communicating with them about the essential features of the program. • Providing an interpreter is usually the preferred method, but you may also provide written translations of critical documents. If the need for interpreter services in a particular language is small, you do not need in-house capacity to communicate with the LEP participants on demand. However, you should arrange with another community organization or a professional interpreter service (there are several that operate over the telephone) to provide timely and meaningful assistance to all LEP participants. • To address the participant's long term needs, you should review the participant's IEP and consider whether the participant would benefit from ESL classes and a host agency assignment where language skills could be worked on. If part of an IEP and the grant agreement, ESL classes are an allowable expense, and the participant may be paid wages while attending these classes.
24	Literacy skills deficient?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check “yes” if the participant computes or solves problems, reads, writes, or speaks English at or below the 8th grade level or is unable to compute or solve problems, read, write, or speak English at a level necessary to function on the job, in the individual’s family, or in society. • Asking the participant about literacy is likely to embarrass the participant and is unlikely to produce accurate information. As part of the IEP, you may wish to test all participants who have less than some college. Standard tests include Test of Adult Basic Education (TABE), Adult Basic Learning Exam (ABLE), and Test of Applied Literacy Skills (TALS). Your local One-Stop center can administer any of these tests for you. You should not design your own test.

If there is a delay in obtaining the DD-214, you can accept the applicant's statement, coupled with a military ID card or VA ID card, and enroll the applicant pending receipt of the DD-214. The state Veterans Affairs office may assist in obtaining the DD-214. • Veterans discharged prior to 1950 received predecessor forms that were similar to the DD-214. If a pre-1950 veteran does not possess a predecessor form, it is possible to obtain it from the centralized repository of military records in St Louis, Missouri. Topic 39	Disabled applicants who cannot take advantage of the program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The preamble to the regulations at Section 641.520 makes it clear that you are not required to enroll an applicant “who cannot take advantage of the available service.” However, care should be taken in determining an applicant ineligible on the basis of physical or mental disability. As the recipient of federal funds, SCSEP grantees and sub-grantees are subject to the anti-discrimination provisions of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. (State grantees are also covered by Title II of the ADA.) In addition, applicants with physical or mental disabilities are part of the target population for SCSEP and are entitled to preference in enrollment. Community service is designed to take applicants with barriers to employment and make them job-ready. This may take more time for some participants than for others. • Grantees should have written enrollment policies. These policies should give due weight to the statutory preferences and priorities and should reflect grantees’ obligation under Section 504 to make reasonable efforts to find host agency assignments that accommodate qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities. • Medical documentation from a qualified source is needed where the sole reason for not enrolling an otherwise eligible individual is the applicant’s disability. The documentation would have to show that the person’s participation could potentially cause harm to him or herself or to others, or that the person was incapable of participating in the program. Essentially, the grantee is making a determination that the eligible individual is not a qualified person with a disability with respect to participation in the program. Because SCSEP’s emphasis is to serve those most in need, a decision not to enroll a disabled person will be difficult to sustain. • If an applicant has such severe physical or mental limitations, as documented by competent medical opinion, that you cannot find any suitable host agency assignment, you would be entitled to determine the applicant ineligible. As an alternative, however, under these limited circumstances (see Topic 11 of the Community Service Assignment Form Guide), you could assign the individual to a trial assignment at the project office while you did a full assessment of the participant’s needs and limitations and conducted an intensive search for a suitable host agency that could accommodate the participant’s disability. If you ultimately determined that there were no suitable host agencies and that the participant could not be served by the program, you could terminate the participant. You will need detailed documentation of performance during the trial period to support your action.

In fact, someone can live in a house many miles out of town and away from any other neighbors without being isolated. Isolation is based on the individual’s perception and is associated with loneliness, sadness, and other forms of emotional distress. Isolation often comes about as the result of the loss of a spouse or other significant family member or loss of a job, among other precipitating life events. • This assessment, like the assessment of literacy and other social barriers, should be done with tact and sensitivity. The disregard specifically includes employment in NEG temporary jobs and income from FEMA debit cards. • Participants whose host agencies are no longer available may be assigned to emergency relief work with non-profit organizations such as the Red Cross. • Evacuees may be enrolled in temporary positions until they can be transitioned to permanent positions or returned to their home communities. • Under existing rules, grantees may employ a wide variety of supportive services to assist hurricane victims. • Enrolling evacuees who have been enrolled with another project. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ You should ask all applicants, especially evacuees, if they are enrolled with another project. Topic 41	Why must applicants be unemployed at time of eligibility determination?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The requirement that applicants be unemployed is contained in both the statute and the regulations: § 641.120 What are the purposes of the SCSEP? The purposes of the SCSEP are to foster and promote useful part-time opportunities in community service activities for unemployed low-income persons who are 55 years of age or older and who have poor employment prospects; to foster individual economic self-sufficiency; and to increase the number of older persons who may enjoy the benefits of unsubsidized employment in both the public and private sectors. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The preamble to the regulations at § 641.120 makes it clear that the Department does not have the authority to expand upon the statutory purposes and permit the enrollment of individuals who are underemployed, as opposed to unemployed. Employed participants who were enrolled prior to July 1, 2004, have been grandfathered and should be assisted to find unsubsidized employment that will allow them to be self-sufficient. ● In addition, employed and recently laid off applicants are presumed to be job-ready and thus ineligible for SCSEP. SCSEP is solely for those applicants who need community service in order to become job-ready. Job-ready applicants should be referred to the One-Stop center.

Topic 42	What constitutes employment?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The no-employment rule does not apply to casual, non-recurring labor for which a participant may be compensated. For example, if a participant occasionally shovels a neighbor’s sidewalk or occasionally baby-sits for a friend’s child and receives payment, that would not constitute disqualifying employment unless the participant were regularly engaged in the business of snow removal or providing child care. • Furthermore, even for regularly performed labor, such as maintenance of an apartment complex in exchange for free rent, as long as the applicant receives no cash for the work, the arrangement does not constitute employment for purposes of SCSEP eligibility. If the applicant becomes a participant, he may continue this arrangement while enrolled, assuming it does not interfere with his community service or job search activity. In addition, the in-kind payment he receives (the value of his rent) is not considered includable income under TEGL 13-04. • On the other hand, the receipt of a “stipend” from a non-profit organization for performing regular duties in a social services program is employment and the “stipend” constitutes wages. Calling wages a stipend does not change their nature; nor does it matter that the work is performed for a non-profit or government organization. While participation in a job training program is not employment and the wages received are not includable income, regular employment by a social service program renders an applicant employed and thus ineligible. • Participation in the Foster Grandparent Program (FGP), the Senior Companion Program (SCP), the Senior Demonstration Programs (SDP), and the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) is not considered employment. These programs are all funded by the Senior Corps of the Corporation for National and Community Services. The authorizing legislation, the Domestic Volunteer Service Act, establishes these programs and VISTA as volunteer service, not employment, and further provides that the stipend paid to participants in these programs should not be considered income from employment. Therefore, you do not consider participants in these programs to be employed and you do not include any stipend paid by these programs when determining income for purposes of SCSEP eligibility.

Topic 43 (Revised)	Exiting participants who start employment while enrolled	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The rules regarding employment of participants are clear: No participant may begin a job while enrolled in SCSEP. A participant who does so must be exited for unsubsidized employment. Grantees' rules and procedures should explicitly spell out this eligibility requirement, and all participants should have been informed in writing. When you are informed that a participant has commenced or is about to commence unsubsidized employment, you should follow your normal procedures to exit the participant. Normally, the last day in the program would be the day before unsubsidized employment commences. If you learn of the employment after it has commenced, you must immediately exit the participant. • You complete an unsubsidized employment form for the participant regardless of how or when you learned of the employment. The start work date (field 14 of the UE Form) must be after the date of exit from the program. (By definition, unsubsidized employment for purposes of SCSEP placement can only exist after the participant has left the program.) In cases where you learn of the employment after it has commenced, the start work date must be the day after exit, not the actual date on which the participant began the employment.
Topic 44 (Revised)	Can participants work limited part-time hours while they move transition to employment?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Participants may not work any hours at all in unsubsidized employment (except for occasional and casual employment, such as shoveling a neighbor's sidewalk) while they are enrolled in the program. You may, however, use the OJE to structure a transition to unsubsidized employment. See Topic 25 of the Community Service Assignment Form.
Topic 45	Is employment treated consistently in all data elements of the Participant Form?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are many similar terms in the SCSEP forms that are used differently for different purposes. The key is understanding why an element is in the forms and how it will be used for reporting. The use of "employed" and "unemployed" is a good example. • The SCSEP eligibility rule requires that the applicant be unemployed when you make the eligibility determination, regardless of the participant's employment status before that time. The Common Measure "employed prior to participation" looks at the participant's status in the seven days prior to participation. A participant unemployed on the day of the eligibility determination may have been employed at some point in the seven days prior to participation. • Similarly, a displaced homemaker must have been unemployed or underemployed prior to enrollment. An underemployed displaced homemaker could lose her job and then be eligible for SCSEP because she is unemployed at the time of eligibility determination.

They may, however, refer ineligible applicants to the One-Stop or to other appropriate service providers without limitation. Such activity on behalf of ineligible applicants may be conducted by permanent sub-grantee staff or by participants assigned to the sub-grantee’s office.
37 (Revised)	Placed on waiting list?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the applicant is eligible but there were no authorized positions available or there were no suitable community assignments available, you must check “yes.” • If a community service assignment is available but administrative processing causes a delay of 14 days or less, check “no.” • Once you have coded your answer to this question, do not change it. When you assign someone who is on the waiting list to community service, you create an assignment for the individual just as you would for any other eligible applicant. Do not change the answer to “no.” If you change the indicator, there will be no way to tell how many participants have been placed on the waiting list. If you want to see how many applicants are currently on the waiting list, you can use Waiting List management report. It will only display those individuals who have not been assigned to community service as of the date the report is run. • If an applicant on the waiting list decides not to continue waiting for an assignment, you close your record by checking box 6a(i) on the Exit Form. The QPR recognizes placement of non-SCSEP-eligible participants in Section B. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you put someone on the waiting list without realizing that the person was job-ready and you subsequently assisted this person in obtaining employment before an assignment became available, you could modify the person's record by removing the individual from the waiting list and determining the individual ineligible. You could then follow the steps above to get recognition for the placement. In that case, you should use the comments field to document what you have done and why. Of course, this recognition would appear only in Section B of the QPR and would not be reflected in your placement rate, which is reported in Section E of the QPR. • Such modifications should be rare.
38	Community service assignment?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • No applicant can receive SCSEP services or wages until assigned to community service. (The applicant need not actually begin the community service assignment before receiving services such as training or orientation but must be assigned to a bona fide position.) • When the applicant is assigned to community service, you must complete a Community Service Assignment Form. At that time, the applicant becomes a participant. • For WebDCS users, it will be necessary to close out of the Participant Form and add a Community Service Assignment to start this process.
Topic 47	Are participants employees of the sub-grantee?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Whether participants are considered employees of the sub-grantee or the host agency is a matter of state law. The regulations provide that participants are not federal employees but do not take a position on whether they might be considered employees of some other entity. You may wish to consult with the appropriate state authorities, such as the attorney general or the Department of Labor.
Topic 48	Are participants entitled to unemployment compensation benefits?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 641.565(b)(4) of the SCSEP regulations provides that grantees may not pay the cost of unemployment insurance for participants unless required by law. Federal law, Section 3309(b)(5) of FUTA, excludes from mandatory UI coverage any service "as part of an unemployment work-relief or work-training program assisted or financed in whole or in part by any Federal agency or an agency of a State or political subdivision thereof, by an individual

		receiving such work relief or work training.” SCSEP qualifies for this exemption. However, states are free to extend coverage to such programs and a few states do so. If your state is among them, the regulation permits you to use SCSEP funds to meet your UI tax obligation. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are two separate issues regarding UI benefits for participants. Former participants who are collecting UI benefits may or may not be receiving benefits based upon their participation in SCSEP. Depending upon when they last worked in covered employment and when they were enrolled in SCSEP, their UI benefits may be based on their prior employment and not on their SCSEP participation. Current participants collecting UI are probably collecting on the basis of prior employment, not current SCSEP enrollment. Federal law provides that a UI claimant who is otherwise eligible for benefits cannot be denied benefits because he or she is currently enrolled in an approved job training program. • You should contact your state UI agency to learn what the law is in your state and which wage credits were used to establish UI claims for SCSEP participants. If the wage credits came from prior employment, you have no tax liability. If the wage credits came from SCSEP participation, then you should discuss with the UI officials whether there is a basis under state law for exempting participants from coverage because they are trainees under a job training program and not employees. (You may also wish to confer with other state and national sub-grantees in your state. UI determinations are often inconsistent, especially for issues that seldom occur. Another sub-grantee may have gotten a different result.) You have the right to appeal any adverse determination made by the UI agency. If you are ultimately unsuccessful, you should discuss with the UI officials the options you have as a non-profit organization to minimize your tax burden. • You can use this link to find the UI agency for your state: http://workforcesecurity.doleta.gov/map.asp • There is one final issue. If participants had recent work in an employment relationship prior to applying for SCSEP, they may well have been job-ready. Job-ready applicants are not eligible for SCSEP and should be referred to the One-Stop center. If job-ready participants were enrolled, their IEPs should reflect the goal of unsubsidized employment as soon as possible.
Topic 49 (New)	Garnishment of SCSEP wages	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nothing in the Older Americans Act prevents the garnishment of SCSEP wages. Grantees will have to look at the law under which a judgment was obtained against the participant or at state law generally to determine the extent to which SCSEP wages can be garnished in a particular state.

Topic 50 (New)	Effect of SCSEP wages on Medicaid and other programs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 509 of the Older Americans Act precludes SCSEP wages from affecting eligibility only for federal housing programs and Food Stamps. How SCSEP wages are treated for all other state and federal programs depends upon the rules of the specific programs. • It does not appear that there is anything in the federal Medicaid rules that would specifically provide for the exemption of SCSEP wages. Medicaid is a federal-state partnership in which the states have a fair amount of discretion in setting income and asset limits for different classes of beneficiaries. To determine what income your state counts for Medicaid eligibility purposes, you should contact your state social services agency. There are very generous rules for the "working disabled." There are also programs in many states under which individual can earn an amount over the normal limits and "buy-in" to Medicaid for a small amount to maintain their Medicaid benefits, including personal assistance services for the home and workplace. All disabled SCSEP participants should be made aware of these Medicaid programs and informed of what assistance is available in their state.
Topic 51	Permissible activities prior to assignment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Only eligible applicants who have been assigned to an authorized community service position may receive any SCSEP services. At the point of assignment, the applicant becomes a participant; may receive services such as orientation, an IEP, and training; and may be paid wages. The date of participation for the Common Measures is the date of assignment. Note that the participant is not required to physically commence the assignment with the host agency prior to receiving SCSEP services. The Community Service Assignment Form has two dates, one for the date of initial assignment and one for the date on which the participant actually commences the assignment. • Obviously, sub-grantees must assess applicants' work histories, aptitudes, abilities, and interests in order to make an effective assignment. This determination of suitability for assignment is part of the intake and eligibility process and does not conflict with the regulations. Moreover, in many situations it may be necessary for the sub-grantee, as part of the intake process, to do a more complete assessment of certain characteristics, such as illiteracy, social isolation, or other social barriers, that determine preferences for service before determining whether to provide service to an applicant. Sub-grantees are authorized to do as complete an assessment as necessary to determine preferences for service and make an appropriate assignment. However, the participant may not be paid for taking part in this assessment, and the process should stop short of the formal drafting of an IEP. The assessment of suitability and determination of characteristics may form the foundation for the formal IEP that takes place after the assignment (and at which time the participant may be paid).

Participant Form Guide

Number	Element Name/ Topic	Element Description/Explanation Plus Additional Comments
		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For many participants, the assessment and assignment process will not be extended or complicated. In such cases, nothing prohibits a sub-grantee from conducting an assessment, completing the formal IEP, and assigning a participant to a community service position in one sitting all on the same day. Since the date of the assignment in the data system and the date on the assessment instrument and IEP will be the same, there would be no violation of the regulation. The point of the regulation is that only those individuals who are in need of and who actually receive a community service position are entitled to other SCSEP services. • It is not permissible to assign an applicant to the sub-grantees' project office as a placeholder in order to pay the applicant wages and conduct a formal assessment prior to assigning the applicant to his or her real community service position. Applicants can be assigned to the project office only when there is a bona fide community service position available and the applicant will be performing legitimate work at the project office. On the other hand, as long as the original assignment was made in good faith, nothing prohibits a sub-grantee from changing a participant's initial community service assignment if a more complete assessment or the formal IEP reveals that the initial assignment was not optimal.
Topic 52 (New)	Supportive services	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SCSEP participants are entitled to supportive services as identified in their IEPs to assist them in successfully participating in the program. Supportive services may be provided while participants are in community service or in the first six months of unsubsidized employment. • Supportive services are discretionary, and there is no SCSEP rule dictating what percent of allowable costs the grantee or sub-grantee should pay. Although you are permitted to pay the entire cost, you should be careful not to establish a precedent that you may not be able to afford in the future or that can give rise to claims of unequal treatment. As with all such matters, it is best if the grantee has a policy establishing exactly what supportive services it will pay for and the maximum amount it will pay. • To the extent practicable, grantees should pay for supportive services with non-SCSEP funds. (See Topic 50 for supportive services specifically for the disabled.)

40 (Revised)	Co-enrollments?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check the appropriate box(es) to indicate any co-enrollment of the participant. Co-enrollment applies to any individual who meets the requirements for SCSEP participation, as well as the requirements for any other relevant program identified in the Individual Employment Plan, and is enrolled in both the SCSEP and another relevant program, including the Section 502(e) program. If “other” is checked, specify the name of the additional entity or entities with which the participant is enrolled. If there is no co-enrollment, check “none.” • If the participant is co-enrolled with the Section 502(e) program, indicate whether the Section 502(e) program is administered by this grantee or a different grantee. If a different grantee, give the name and code of the grantee. This information is necessary to properly credit placements of Section 502(e) participants. • Enrollment is as defined by the other program. Registration with a One-Stop does not always amount to enrollment with either WIA or ES. WIA tends to be fairly restrictive about when an individual is considered enrolled while ES generally treats everyone registered with ES as being enrolled. You will have to determine how the One-Stop treats registration and at what point enrollment with these programs takes place. • This field should be updated whenever there is a change in enrollment status. Do not indicate a co-enrollment until it actually occurs. Do not delete any co-enrollment when that co-enrollment ceases. • SCSEP co-enrollments, whether they are with WIA, the Employment Service, or any other entity, do not require documentation. You can accept the participant's self-report or you can call the One-Stop. It is a good idea to use the comment field to record the source of the information, however.

Topic 53	WIA and SCSEP	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Co-enrollment with WIA is strongly encouraged. Registration in WIA core or intensive services should in no way suggest by itself that an applicant is not suitable for SCSEP. The SCSEP regulations facilitate co-enrollment in a number of ways. For example, Section 641.220 says that participants assigned to community service can receive wages while participating in WIA intensive services or training; Section 641.230 says that WIA and SCSEP IEPs are entitled to reciprocity; and Section 641.240 provides that SCSEP participants may be deemed automatically eligible for WIA intensive or training services. On the other hand, if an applicant is job-ready and does not need community service, then the applicant should be referred to WIA for job search assistance and placement. • There are a number of resources regarding coordination with WIA in addition to the regulations cited above. At the regulations training last spring, there was a presentation on this topic, and all grantees received copies of the materials. In addition, the Older Worker web site contains the following tools under Technical Assistance, and then Technical Assistance Guides: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Assessing Workforce Development Systems Implications and Opportunities in the WIA for the SCSEP One-Stop Training Curriculum for Older Worker Specialist Resource Sharing for Workforce Investment Act One Stop Centers Using the Workforce Investment Act to Serve Mature and Older Workers Protocol for Serving Older Workers

You do not update them upon recertification or at any other time. • If the participant is newly enrolled and has not yet had a recertification, leave the fields in this section blank. • SCSEP requires that participants be recertified at least every 12 months, not annually. Programs are free to recertify on the participants' anniversary dates or to recertify all participants at the same time each year. If your program requires that all participants be recertified at a specific time, you would have to recertify new participants as well. Otherwise, they would go more than 12 months between the time of enrollment and their first recertification.
Topic 55 (New)	Recertification within 12 months; substantial change in circumstance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grantees are required to recertify all participants once every 12 months. They are not supposed to investigate or make inquiry about income changes between certifications. However, if a grantee learns of a substantial change in circumstances that is likely to have an effect on eligibility, such as a substantial increase in an existing source of income or the addition of a new source of income, the grantee must do a recertification as soon as it becomes aware of this information. • Recertifications are required every 12 months in part to deal with expected increases in income due to cost of living increases in Social Security or pensions. COLA's reflect increases in the cost of living and are not really increases in spendable income. To a large extent, they are offset by increases in the federal poverty level, upon which eligibility is based. There is no official definition of "substantial," but an increase in income would have to be more than a COLA to trigger a recertification. • The marriage of a SCSEP participant is a substantial change of circumstances that requires a recertification. However, the part-time employment of a spouse four weeks before the participant completes a training program or two months before the scheduled recertification date would generally not constitute a substantial change. • When you become aware of a change that will make the participant over-income, you should do a recertification calculation as soon as possible so you can inform the participant when he or she will become ineligible. For example, if the participant is newly married, the participant's new spouse adds $1000 per month to the family income starting on November 24, and the

Assuming that the income limit for a family of two is $5000 higher than it was for the participant alone, the participant would become ineligible in two and one-half months, around February 10. If there were no further changes when that date arrived, you would issue the participant the standard 30-day termination notice. If circumstances had changed in the interim, you would do a new recertification calculation.

Topic 2	Maintenance of effort; assigning participants to host agencies that have had layoffs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● SCSEP participants cannot be used to replace workers who are on layoff. Section 502(B)(1)(G) of the Older Americans Act specifically provides that each project funded under the act “will not employ or continue to employ any eligible individual to perform work the same or substantially the same as that performed by any other person who is on layoff.” The same requirement is contained in Section 641.844(b)(5) of the SCSEP regulations. The statute and regulations also prohibit substituting "SCSEP-funded positions for existing federally assisted jobs." See Section 641.844(b)(4). Therefore, you cannot assign SCSEP participants to a host agency if they will be doing work substantially similar to that performed by regular employees who have been laid off.

The contact person's name and address will be entered in fields 9 and 10. • This field will be used to draw the sample for the host agency customer satisfaction survey, which will be mailed to the contact person identified in fields 9 and 10. • There are exceptions to this rule if using the FEIN will result in there being too few host agencies or using the name of the parent organization makes it difficult to identify the entity to which the participant is assigned. See Topics 6 and 7 below. • You should standardize the names of host agencies so that an agency is not entered multiple times under different names. • For users of the WebDCS, there is a drop-down menu on the first assignment screen from which you may select a previously entered host agency. 	database	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are circumstances where using the name and FEIN of the parent organization will not be feasible. See Topics 6 and 7. In those cases, you may enter multiple organizations with similar but not identical names in the same state. For example, Goodwill LA North, Goodwill LA Central, Goodwill LA East, if they are entered without any FEIN, are all considered unique organizations even though they are all in the state of California. You should only list the FEIN if you attach it to the parent organization. • If a WebDCS user attempts to enter an organization that already exists in the database, the user will be asked whether he or she wants to use the existing organization. If not, the user will be required to change the name of the organization to one that is unique. • The first sub-grantee to enter an organization is considered the “owner” of that organization and is the only user allowed to change the basic organization information in fields 4-7 and 8a. A non-owner that wishes to change any of this information must contact the owner to do so. The name of the owner is displayed as part of the organization search function in SPARQ 2. • Fields 7a, 7b, and 8b (which will not be active in the database until SPARQ 2.X) are not unique to the organization and may be different for each sub-grantee that uses that organization. Field 8 belongs to a particular assignment and thus can be different for each assignment.
Topic 5 (New)	Can two projects use the same host agency?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Although the regulations do not prohibit two grantees from using the same host agency, the national office discourages the practice. The national office prefers that grantees coordinate the use of host agencies and avoid duplication wherever feasible. Of course, there will be situations where such duplication may be unavoidable or may be in the best interest of the participants. • Coordination among the grantees in the same area will at least ensure that duplication is not done inadvertently.
Topic 6 (Revised)	Using FEIN to identify host agencies (and employers) for the surveys	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There are three separate pieces of identifying information about the host agency and the employer: organization name and mailing address; name of site where participant works; and name (and address) of contact person. The survey will be mailed to the contact person at the contact person's address. The form has a field for the contact person's address if it is different from the mailing address of the organization. • Determining the identity of the host agency or employer is difficult if the entity has multiple branches or divisions. The instructions require you to use the FEIN to determine the main entity. The host agency and employer names are used to draw the samples for the surveys (and to determine an unduplicated count of host agencies and employers), but the survey is mailed to the contact person at the contact person's address. Note that the contact person may or may not be at the site where the participant is working. The site is not required for the data application. It may be of use for case management purposes, but it is not used in the selection of respondents or in the mailing of surveys. The form and the data application only capture the name and location of the site. There are no fields for the address. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The instructions ensure that the proper person will receive the survey. The only risk is that the survey will under-sample some government agencies or large organizations. However, since there are a large number of host agencies, including government agencies, the validity of results is not threatened.

Topic 7	Exception to the rule about using FEINs to identify host agencies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Using the FEIN to identify the parent organization may be arbitrary, but it is a clean and simple rule to follow. However, the rule does not work well for government agencies and large organizations that conduct a variety of functions from different locations. The rule can have an especially unfortunate effect in communities where there are few host agencies beyond government agencies. We have already recognized an exception for one grantee, American Samoa, where the territorial government is the only host agency and all the government departments to which participants are assigned are under the FEIN of the territorial government. A similar exception should apply to all grantees and sub-grantees facing a similar situation. • While the rule about following the FEIN is still the norm, sub-grantees may depart from the norm, especially where following the rule will result in a small number of host agencies to be surveyed. Sub-grantees may treat the local office, department, or division of the parent organization that owns the FEIN as the host agency for purposes of field 4 of the Community Service Assignment Form when either of the following conditions applies: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The parent organization that owns the FEIN is a national governmental or non-profit agency, and the participant is assigned to a local office of the parent. Examples include the Social Security Administration and or a national charitable organization like Goodwill. OR 2. The parent organization that owns the FEIN is a state, county, or local governmental agency and: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. The participant is assigned to a local department or division, not the main office;

Community Service Assignment Form Guide

		and b. The local department or division has a separate administrative structure from the main office; and c. The contact person for the participant is located at the local department or division rather than at the main office. Although it is not always essential that the local department or division be in a separate physical location from the main office, the case for treating the local department or division as a separate host agency will be much stronger if the local department or division is in a separate location. By main office, we mean the central location or mailing address of the parent organization that owns the FEIN, e.g., the Broome County New York County Executive or Comptroller. An example of this exception would be a county government that runs all services in the county, such as welfare, health, education, recreation, and public works, and each service is in a separate department with a separate administrative structure. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When applying either of the two exceptions described above, the critical concern is that the same contact person not receive more than one host agency survey in a program year. The fact that the same person would receive the survey is a strong indicator that you should not apply the exception. However, the fact that the survey would be going to the same mailing address (but a different contact person at that address) is not as clear an indicator that the exception should not apply. In some instances, the parent organization and its divisions will be located in a single building with a single mailing address. It then becomes even more important to be sure that the administrative structure is separate and that the contact person is different. If you are uncertain whether multiple surveys would be sent to the parent organization under either of these two exceptions, then you should follow the rule and identify the host agency by the FEIN. • NOTE: If you apply either exception and list as the host agency (in field 4) a local department or division that does not have its own FEIN, leave the field for FEIN (#6 on the Community Service Assignment Form) blank. The FEIN should only be listed for the parent organization. You may still enter the local site name and location of this local department or division in field 8 even if this duplicates what you have put in field 4. The data application does not require that field 8 be filled in.

Topic 8 (Revised)	Section 502(e) employers not be recorded as host agencies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When providing a subsidized training site under the Section 502(e) program, the Section 502(e) employer is neither a host agency nor an employer. Instead, it is a training provider. Because Section 502(e) participants must also be enrolled in the regular SCSEP program, the participant will also have a host agency assignment for which you must fill out a Community Service Assignment Form. SPARQ 2 contains a new Training Information section in the assignment screens where a user can enter information about an employer that is providing a training site under the Section 502(e) program. See Form Heading 5 and element 33 below. • You will check the box under co-enrollment in field 40 of the Participant Form to indicate that the participant is also registered in the Section 502(e) program. You will also fill out the Unsubsidized Employment Form at the time of placement (after the participant has finished the Section 502(e) training and has exited the program) and check the box in field 8 to indicate that the employer has provided a 502(e) training site.

For new applicants, it is the date of the first service received by the applicant and thus the point at which an eligible applicant becomes a participant. It will usually be the date on which payment of wages begins. For reassigned participants, the date will be the first day of assignment to the new host agency regardless of whether the participant actually starts work on that day. Field 13 is the date the assignment was made regardless of when the participant reported to the host agency or when the participant first received wages. You may pay wages once the assignment has been made, but you are not required to do so if the participant is not engaging in any SCSEP activities, e.g., orientation, assessment, IEP, training, prior to reporting to the host agency. Field 14 is the date on which the participant first reported to the host agency. A participant can only have one assignment at a time and must remain assigned to a host agency throughout the period of enrollment unless the participant is on an approved break in participation. The assignment date (field 13) is the date on which the host agency and the participant agree that the participant will perform community service at that host agency. For first assignments, this date is straightforward. For subsequent assignments, the participant cannot be assigned to a new host agency until the assignment at the old host agency has ended. The date of assignment to the first community service position will be the date of participation for the Common Measures.

Topic 9 (New)	What date determines enrollment for the service level measure?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When an eligible applicant is assigned to community service (CSA field 13), the applicant becomes a participant. The numerator for the service level measure is all participants active (assigned to community service) at any time during the reporting period. A participant whose assignment date for community service is 6/30/06 will be counted in the service level measure for PY 2005 regardless of when the participant actually started work at the host agency.
Topic 10	Permissible activities prior to assignment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Only eligible applicants who have been assigned to an authorized community service position may receive any SCSEP services. At the point of assignment, the applicant becomes a participant; may receive services such as orientation, an IEP, and training; and may be paid wages. The date of participation for the Common Measures is the date of assignment. Note that the participant is not required to physically commence the assignment with the host agency prior to receiving SCSEP services. The Community Service Assignment Form has two dates, one for the date of initial assignment and one for the date on which the participant actually commences the assignment. • Obviously, sub-grantees must assess applicants' work histories, aptitudes, abilities, and interests in order to make an effective assignment. This determination of suitability for assignment is part of the intake and eligibility process and does not conflict with the regulations. Moreover, in many situations, it may be necessary for the sub-grantee, as part of the intake process, to do a more complete assessment of certain characteristics – such as illiteracy, social isolation, or other social barriers – that determine preferences for service before determining whether to provide service to an applicant. Sub-grantees are authorized to do as complete an assessment as necessary to determine preferences for service and make an appropriate assignment. However, the participant may not be paid for taking part in this assessment, and the process should stop short of the formal drafting of an IEP. The assessment of suitability and determination of characteristics may form the foundation for the formal IEP that takes place after assignment (and at which time the participant may be paid). • For many participants, the assessment and assignment process will not be extended or complicated. In such cases, nothing prohibits a sub-grantee from conducting an assessment, completing the formal IEP, and assigning a participant to a community service position in one sitting all on the same day. Since the date of the assignment in the data system and the date on the assessment instrument and IEP will be the same, there would be no violation of the regulation. The point of the regulation is that only those individuals who are in need of – and who actually receive – a community service position are entitled to other SCSEP services.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Except in rare circumstances described in Topic 11, it is not permissible to assign an applicant to the sub-grantee’s project office as a place-holder in order to pay the applicant wages and conduct a formal assessment prior to assigning the applicant to his or her real community service position. Applicants can be assigned to the project office only when there is a bona fide community service position available and the applicant will be performing legitimate work at the project office. On the other hand, as long as the original assignment was made in good faith, nothing prohibits a sub-grantee from changing a participant’s initial community service assignment if a more complete assessment or the formal IEP reveals that the initial assignment was not optimal.
Topic 11 (Revised)	Assignment to project office	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An eligible applicant can be assigned to a grantee’s or sub-grantee’s project office as long as the grantee or sub-grantee meets the requirements for being a host agency, there is an authorized position available, the assignment is bona fide, and the assignment is consistent with the participant’s IEP. • In extraordinary circumstances where a regular host agency assignment is not available and placing an applicant on the waiting list for an extended period would create hardship or be contrary to the intent of the regulations, the applicant may be assigned temporarily to the grantee’s or sub-grantee’s project office while a more suitable assignment is being developed. • For example, a veteran over the age of 60 with multiple barriers to employment, including physical and mental disabilities, requires extensive assessment and observation in a host agency environment before it is possible to determine whether a regular host agency assignment is feasible. In this case, the sub-grantee may assign the participant to a position at the sub-grantee’s project office and may conduct the assessment while having the participant provide various services to the sub-grantee. At the end of three weeks of assessment and observation, the sub-grantee identifies a host agency that is willing and able to work with the participant and transfers the participant to this host agency. • This procedure is a very narrow exception to the general rule that an applicant cannot be paid and cannot receive SCSEP services until the applicant has been assigned to a legitimate community service position. The general rule does not permit you to pay an applicant while you are conducting an assessment prior to assignment. • Furthermore, if there is no suitable host agency assignment available, you are required to place an eligible applicant on the waiting list and may not assign the applicant to the project office solely to have a way to pay the applicant wages.

Topic 12 (New)	Assignment of participant to temporary host agency for assessment and other services	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Although it is permissible to use temporary assignments in some circumstances, you should not be assigning participants to temporary host agencies in order to provide additional services to them before they commence their real host agency assignment. • Only participants can receive SCSEP services. A participant is an eligible applicant who has been assigned in good faith to a host agency with the expectation that he or she will commence work there. Once assigned, the participant may receive additional services before reporting to the assignment; however, you should not routinely make temporary assignments in order to provide services before you make the real host agency assignment. You can do as much assessment as is necessary to make an appropriate host agency assignment, but no more than that, before assigning an applicant. There are limited exceptions where a participant with serious barriers to employment may need a temporary or trial assignment to community service. • As a special exception, you may assign the participant to the project office or to a temporary host agency for purpose of completing the assessment or trial. See Topics 11 and 12.

The end date will be used to determine which host agencies are eligible for participation in the customer service survey each year and to calculate average duration of assignments. It may also be used for the revised community service measure.
Topic 13 (New)	Assignment data for participants who do not start work at a host agency before exiting	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There are circumstances where you have made someone a participant -- taken an application, determined the applicant eligible, and assigned the applicant to a community service position -- but the individual changes his or her mind and withdraws from the program before actually starting the community service assignment. In these cases, you enter the assignment date in field 13 of the CSA Form; you leave the start date, field 14, and the end date, field 15, blank. You also complete the Exit Form and identify the reason for the exit in field 5 or 6. (Do not use field 6a of the Exit Form. Since this individual is a participant, you use the true exit reasons in fields 5 and 6.) You are not permitted to place an applicant directly into unsubsidized employment without first assigning the individual to community service. If your participants often obtain unsubsidized employment without starting work at their host agencies, it may appear that you are circumventing the regulation. This is likely to trigger a monitoring inquiry.

Topic 14 (Revised)	Leave of absence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is nothing in the regulations or SCSEP bulletins governing leaves without pay for medical or personal reasons. Grantees are free to adopt their own policies on this issue. The policy should be in writing and should clearly describe the consequences if a participant violates the policy. The policy should also be referenced in the grant. Violation of the policy would be ground for termination and should be subject to the grantee's grievance procedure. See Section 641.580(d) of the regulations. Participants should acknowledge in writing their receipt of the policy. • Participants are not federal employees and are not subject to the protections afforded to federal employees. However, before you conclude that participants are not employees under state law and thus are not covered by federal or state policies providing for leaves of absence that apply to employees in your state, you might want to check with the relevant state authorities such as the Labor Department or the Attorney General. • A participant on an authorized leave of absence is still a participant. If the participant is returning to the host agency where he or she was last assigned, do not end the current assignment, but use field 15a to record the dates of a leave of absence. If the participant is not returning to the current host agency and you have ended the first host agency assignment, this field establishes that the participant is still enrolled in the program while he or she is between host agency assignments • If you do not have a suitable host agency assignment for a participant and you do not expect to have one within a reasonable period, you must terminate the participant using Exit Form field 6(vi). You cannot place the participant on a leave of absence and leave a participant in suspension indefinitely. You must make room for other applicants who need and can take advantage of SCSEP services.

Topic 15 (Revised)	End date when re-assigning a participant to a new host agency	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The movement of a participant from one host agency to another is a reassignment. In SPARQ, you have three days after closing a host agency assignment to start a new assignment for that grantee. • If you do not think that you can assign the participant to the new host agency within three days, you can place the participant on an approved break in participation (see Element 15a and Topic 14 above). • Alternatively, if you intend to reassign a participant to a new host agency, you can leave the assignment open with the original host agency until you have identified the new host agency and can enter the assignment date (field 13) for the new host agency. At that point, you can end the original host agency assignment (field 15) even if the participant has not yet started work (field 14) with the new host agency.
Topic 16	Durational limits; re-enrollment and reassignment of participants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is no SCSEP rule governing time in program or time in a host agency. Grantees are permitted to adopt durational rules with the approval of the national office as part of their grant. Grantees with durational limits should make sure that their policies address the issue of re-enrollment, specifically under what circumstances a participant may be re-enrolled and what is the effect of re-enrollment on durational limits for program participation. • The participant does not have a right to re-enrollment. Re-enrollment is discretionary. If the participant was terminated for cause, or if she became job-ready during her prior enrollment, you do not have to re-enroll her. • Regarding host agency rotations, the IEP should generally determine when a participant should be reassigned to another host agency. In the case of a re-enrollment, if the last IEP indicated that the participant acquired the expected skills at the prior host agency, then it is time to assign the participant to a new host agency. Although participant preferences are entitled to consideration, the critical factor in assigning a participant to a host agency is the sub-grantee's determination of where the participant can best acquire the needed skills to become self-sufficient. If, for some reason, the ex-participant is being re-enrolled because he or she is not job-ready and needs additional community service, it is hard to see how reassignment to the original host agency would contribute to a meaningful IEP. If the participant has already spent significant time with the prior host agency and that was not sufficient to prepare the participant for unsubsidized employment, then the participant needs the experience of a different host agency to develop the missing skills.

16 (Revised)	CSA wage (per hour)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The original field 16 was for recording starting wage in the community service assignment. The instructions stated that you were not required to update the field as the wage changed. • This revised field now captures the current wage at the community service assignment. It must be updated each time the wage changes.
Topic 17	Payment of minimum wage or higher	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 641.565 of the SCSEP regulations requires that you pay at least the minimum wage applicable under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938; the state or local minimum wage for the most nearly comparable covered employment; or the prevailing rate of pay for persons employed in similar public occupations by the same employer, whichever is higher. These wages are floors and apply to orientation, required training, and community service work. • You are free to pay a wage above any of these rates. However, the national office discourages projects from paying more than the statutory minimum wage since raising the hourly wage reduces the number of participants you can serve.
Topic 18 (Revised)	Payment of higher wages to participants assigned to project office	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is no special rule governing the wages of participants assigned to the project office. The regulation says that you must pay all participants the higher of the applicable minimum wage or the prevailing wage. You are permitted to pay applicants more than this required amount, but you are strongly discouraged from doing so. The more you pay participants above the minimum, the fewer participants you can serve. If you do pay more than the minimum, you should probably do so pursuant to a policy so you are not accused of acting arbitrarily or discriminatorily. • You should be careful about paying higher wages to participants assigned to the project office. Grantees and sub-grantees often pay participants more than they would receive at other host agencies in order to keep the participants working for them. This practice may create a disincentive for the participants to seek unsubsidized employment and thus may be doing the participants a disservice. • There are other problems as well. This practice is often seen as unfairly rewarding a small class of participants and may create morale issues for other participants. In addition, participants assigned to the project office must be rotated, like all other participants. When they are, they lose their employment premium. This can have a negative effect on the participants' morale. • It is not permissible to put participants directly on the project payroll for a few additional hours each week as a way to supplement their pay. That constitutes part-time employment, which is not permitted for participants while they are in community service.

Topic 19	Can SCSEP wages be garnished?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Nothing in federal law precludes the garnishment of Title V wages. Therefore, it is solely a matter of state law whether, and to what extent, SCSEP wages can be garnished.
Topic 20 (Revised)	Payment of fringe benefits	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 641.565(b) of the regulations sets forth the required and allowable fringe benefits. Grantees are permitted to provide annual leave, sick leave, holidays, health insurance, an annual physical exam, and any other fringe benefits approved in the grant agreement and permitted by the appropriate federal cost principles. Retirement costs are not allowed. Grantees must provide fringe benefits uniformly to all participants unless the national office agrees to waive this requirement. • Effective July 1, 2005, TEGL 29-04 requires that fringe benefits be zeroed out each year. This means that any unused fringe benefits cannot accrue beyond the program year and will expire at the end of each program year beginning with PY 2005. All existing participants had to be informed of this requirement by May 15, 2005, and had to receive written notification no later than June 15, 2005. All new participants should be informed of this requirement at orientation.
Topic 21	Are participants entitled to unemployment compensation benefits?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 641.565(b)(4) of the SCSEP regulations provides that grantees may not pay the cost of unemployment insurance for participants unless required by law. Federal law, Section 3309(b)(5) of FUTA, excludes from mandatory UI coverage any service “as part of an unemployment work-relief or work-training program assisted or financed in whole or in part by any Federal agency or an agency of a State or political subdivision thereof, by an individual receiving such work relief or work training.” SCSEP qualifies for this exemption. However, states are free to extend coverage to such programs and a few states do so. If your state is among them, the regulation permits you to use SCSEP funds to meet your UI tax obligation. • There are two separate issues regarding UI benefits for participants. Former participants who are collecting UI benefits may or may not be receiving benefits based upon their participation in SCSEP. Depending upon when they last worked in covered employment and when they were enrolled in SCSEP, their UI benefits may be based on their prior employment and not on their SCSEP participation. Current participants collecting UI are probably collecting on the basis of prior employment, not current SCSEP enrollment. Federal law provides that a UI claimant who is otherwise eligible for benefits cannot be denied benefits because he or she is currently enrolled in a job training program. • You should contact your state UI agency to learn what the law is in your state and which

If the wage credits came from SCSEP participation, then you should discuss with the UI officials whether there is a basis under state law for exempting participants from coverage because they are trainees under a job training program and not employees. (You may also wish to confer with other state and national sub-grantees in your state. UI determinations are often inconsistent, especially for issues that seldom occur. Another sub-grantee may have gotten a different result.) You have the right to appeal any adverse determination made by the UI agency. 		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The codes reflect the basic nature of the work the host agency does rather than the participant's specific occupation or title. For example, a receptionist working for a visiting nurse association would be coded G2, while a bus driver for a senior center would be coded E5. If the participant is assigned to the grantee's or sub-grantee's project office, select value E1, Project Administration, as the community service assignment code.
18	Community service assignment title	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Enter the title of the community service position to which the participant was assigned as determined by the host agency. This should be a descriptive title, such as receptionist, nutrition aide, or bus driver. No occupational code is required. You do not create a new community service assignment when the participant remains at the same host agency but the participant's job duties and title change. You can update fields 18 and 19 to reflect the new job title. Field 17, the Community Service Assignment Code, should not change. The code defines the host agency, not the participant's particular job with the host agency.
18a (New)	Participant's job code	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You may enter only one of the pre-defined codes to indicate the particular job assignment that the participant has at this host agency. If the job changes, you may select a new job code.
18b (New)	Participant's workers' compensation code	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Grantees may designate state-based workers' compensation codes for use by their sub-grantees. There is no nationwide list of codes.
Topic 22	Cash handling assignments for participants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is no SCSEP rule that prohibits the assignment of participants to community service positions involving the handling of cash. It is possible that some grantees have had an unofficial policy to this effect. If so, they have done so without the approval of the national office. Such a policy has the appearance of discrimination and would have to be supported by clear, non-discriminatory justification. A grantee should obtain approval from the national office before imposing any such restriction.

Any inaccuracy in reporting that this method causes will be balanced out during the course of the year. To accommodate the possibility that a pay period may extend into another quarter, the data system will permit you to enter hours in the quarter after the quarter in which

		the participant ended the community service assignment. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do not make any deduction for fringe benefits paid. • If your payroll system tracks hours actually spent in community service, you may use these hours directly without deriving them from the paychecks. However, you are free to use the paycheck method if it is easier for you. • Enter this information only at the end of each quarter. WebDCS users may use the administrative function, CSA Hours, to enter all hours for all participants from a single screen. Alternatively, they may enter hours for an individual participant directly into field 19. • The total hours paid in the quarter must at least equal the number of paid training hours in the quarter (field 21). Training hours are a sub-set of total hours. • This information will be used to derive the total hours of community service.
Topic 23 (New)	Entering total paid hours when participant has two different assignments in the same quarter	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Each host agency assignment requires a separate Community Service Assignment Form. In SPARQ, that means a separate assignment record for each host agency. Data on the CSA Form is specific to that host agency assignment only. It does not include data from any other assignment. Therefore, you list in field 19 of the CSA Form the hours worked solely at that host agency during a given quarter. If the participant worked at a second host agency during the same quarter, you enter the hours worked at the second host agency on the CSA Form for the second host agency. You do not combine hours and enter them on a single form. • If a WebDCS user enters hours through the CSA Hours utility, all host agencies at which a participant worked during a specific quarter will be listed.
Topic 24	Required number of hours in community service each week	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is no rule governing how many hours a participant must work in community service each week. There used to be a requirement that you offer all participants at least 20 hours of community service per week but no more than 25 hours. That requirement no longer applies. However, the allocation of slots is based on 21 hours of community service per week, and the national office strongly recommends that you provide everyone 20 hours per week. • There is no longer a limit on the number of hours a participant can work in community service in a year. However, the national office still considers 1300 hours per year (calculated from the date of enrollment) to be a good benchmark and encourages grantees to stay within it. Since slots are allocated to grantees based on 21 hours per week per participant, as a practical matter, you cannot exceed the 1300 hour limit without over-spending your grant or leaving some positions unfilled. • If you provide more than 20 hours per week, you will not be able to serve the number of 20 (Revised)	Types of training received	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Field 20 records all types of training that the participant receives while assigned to this host agency. A participant can only receive training while assigned to community service, even if the participant is on a leave of absence from the host agency at the time of training. • You check as many types of training as apply and update this field as appropriate throughout the participant's assignment with this host agency. The data in field 20 are cumulative. You never delete the information, and you add new training types when they occur. • If you use the optional Training Information section of the CSA Form and complete field 34, SPARQ 2.X will automatically update field 20 with the training type indicated in field 34. However, you can always update field 20 manually even if you have completed field 34. • Check the appropriate box(es) to indicate the type(s) of training the participant has received. If "other" is checked, specify the type(s) of training. If training was not provided, enter "none." In this field, include only training that has been designed and provided (directly or through a training provider) by the sub-grantee, not routine training that is provided by the host agency as a normal part of the community service assignment. Do not record any host agency training in field 20. • The definitions for the types of training listed in field 20 come from OWB 04-04. General training is defined as that which enhances a participant's basic skills. It is in contrast to specialized training, which is designed to prepare a participant for a particular job or occupation. Group meetings could be general training, depending on the content. If you are doing solely job search or job club without any basic skills component, you should use field 20d, "Other," and list job search in the text field.

20d (New)	On-the-job training (OJT; Section 502(e) only)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This training type is only for participants who are co-enrolled in the Section 502(e) program and have received on-the-job training. Topic 25	Using OJEs to transition participants to unsubsidized employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Many participants are unsure of their job skills and are reluctant to leave the program for unsubsidized employment without some sort of safety net. In the past, grantees have permitted participants to work a few hours each week while they tried out a new job and gained the confidence they needed to succeed in it. The new regulations do not permit participants to work part-time while enrolled even if the job is designed to transition them to complete unsubsidized employment. Participants must be unemployed while they are enrolled in the program. However, the transition to unsubsidized employment can be addressed through an OJE. OJEs are designed to give both the participant and the employer a trial and to provide additional training to ensure the success of the unsubsidized employment. • Under OWB 04-04, the participant may have a combined total of 40 hours per week in community service and OJE employment for up to 12 weeks. The participant may be enrolled in the program and receiving wages for community service while she is working part-time for the employer. You can also reduce the community service hours as the hours of employment increase. You must obtain approval for OJEs in your grant before you can create them. • The transition to unsubsidized employment can also be facilitated by the right of return. See Topic 2 of the Exit Form Guide. The right of return is designed to encourage participants to try unsubsidized employment when they may have doubts about their ability to succeed. If a participant exits the program for unsubsidized employment and does not achieve 30 days of employment, you may bring the participant back into the program within 90 days of exit as though she had never left. If for some reason the job does not work out, the participant can come back into the program and strengthen the job skills and self-confidence needed to be successful in a new placement.
Topic 26 (Revised)	OJEs are not placements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An OJE is a type of training, paid for with program funds; it is not a placement. A participant remains enrolled in the program during an OJE, and does not exit. The performance measures are not implemented until the OJE ends, the employer has picked up the participant, and the participant has exited. The start work date on the Unsubsidized Employment Form should be the first day on the employer's payroll after the OJE has ended and the participant has exited. • SPARQ has new screens for capturing the details of any paid training provided to a participant, including an OJE. See Elements 23-43 below.

Topic 27 (New)	How long must a participant be in community service before receiving specialized training	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Older Worker Bulletin 04-04, which governs all training activity, requires that participants be assigned to community service before they can receive any training. The bulletin specifies that a participant must be working in a community service assignment for at least two weeks before commencing an OJE but does not provide a specific time in community service before a participant can receive specialized training. To be safe, you should wait at least two weeks. • The key is that the participant be properly enrolled in the program, which means that he or she needs and can benefit from community service in order to become job-ready. To enroll individuals, put them directly into training, and then place them violates the requirements of the program. Note also that you must have approval for specialized training in your grant agreement or a modification to the agreement. General training, such as an introduction to computers, can be provided immediately after a participant is assigned to community service.
Topic 28 (Revised)	Participant's community service status when assigned to training only or working reduced hours in community service	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A participant must remain assigned to a host agency in order to receive any SCSEP services, including training. If the sub-grantee wishes to provide training to a participant between host agency assignments, it should reassign the participant to a new host agency before sending the participant to training. If it is unable to make an appropriate assignment before the training begins, then it must leave the participant assigned to the first host agency and reassign the participant to a new host agency upon the completion of training. • The participant does not have to be actually working at the host agency at the time of the training. You may leave the participant assigned to her original host agency while she is in training even if the host agency is not willing to let the participant work reduced hours or to hold her position open until the training is concluded. If you do so, you would end the original host agency assignment on the date the training ends. You would then need to assign the participant to a new host agency. Alternatively, you can assign the participant to a new host agency now (ideally one that will let her work reduced hours while she is in training) and close the original host agency assignment. • You cannot allow the participant to be in training if she is not assigned to some host agency.
21 (Revised)	Total hours of paid training received in quarter	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • At the end of each quarter, enter the total number of hours of paid training that the sub-grantee provided, directly or through a training provider, to the participant. Do not include any training provided by the host agency. • WebDCS users may use the administrative function, CSA Hours, to enter all hours for all participants from a single screen. Alternatively, they may enter hours for an individual

		participant directly into field 21. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The hours in this field will be subtracted from the total number of hours paid in field 19 to derive the number of hours in community service for the QPR. You do not make this calculation. The calculation will be done for you at the time the QPR is generated. • The number of hours of paid training in a quarter can never be more than the total hours paid in the quarter (field 19).
Topic 29 (Revised)	Payment of wages for training and job search activity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The regulations provide that you must pay participants the minimum wage for orientation, grantee-required training, and community service work. Job search activity alone, however, is not considered training. You may pay participants for engaging in job search activity, such as participation in a job club, but you are not required to do so unless the job search activity is provided in conjunction with required training. Of course, you may only provide SCSEP services, such as training or job search assistance, to participants. • If you do pay wages for job search activities, you must record these hours in field 21 so the hours can be deducted from total paid hours to derive the hours of community service. In field 20, you should select "e. Other" and indicate job search assistance.
Topic 30 (Revised)	When is training considered grantee-required?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you specify in the IEP training that the participant will definitely take, it is considered grantee-required. (You can always list training that you discussed with the participant and that the participant may take at some point.) If you do not want to pay for some training because you do not believe that it is essential, you should not list it in the IEP. If the participant nonetheless decides to take this training on his own, you may modify the IEP after the fact to reflect that, in addition to the required training, the participant also completed other training. • If job search training is provided as part of other required training, such as general job readiness, you must pay wages for the training. That does not mean that you have to pay for the actual job search component. For example, if the grantee requires that participants attend a training course for 3 hours each week and also spend 3 hours each week seeking employment with the new skills they are learning or that they contact a minimum of 3 prospective employers each week, the 3 hours spent in the class would be paid, but the time spent looking for work would not have to be paid. Note, however, that you may pay for pure job search activity even though you are not required to. • You cannot avoid paying wages for required activities by paying the participant for required training but allowing or compelling the participant to work without pay at the community service assignment. However, in the negotiation of the IEP, you could agree that the participant would be on an unpaid leave of absence from the host agency while the participant attended classes. As long as the participant remains assigned to community service, even if on an approved break in participation, you can pay for the training.

Topic 31 (Revised)	Effect of paid training on performance measures	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Although paid training is subtracted from total paid hours to determine hours in community service, grantees will not be penalized in the performance measures for providing paid training. The goal for that measure will not be established until baseline data are collected during PY 2006. Since the national office is encouraging the appropriate use of training, it will take training into account when establishing the goal for this measure.
Topic 32 (New)	Maximum paid training hours allowed	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paid training is governed by OWB 04-04. There is no specific limit on the hours of paid training, with the exception of OJE's, which are limited to 12 weeks and 40 hours per week. However, all training must be described and approved in the grant agreement. The details are listed in the OWB. • As a practical matter, because funds for training are so limited, you will need to set reasonable limits so that your resources are not exhausted by just a few participants.
Topic 33	Recording paid OJE hours	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • OJE wages may be paid by either the sub-grantee or the employer. If they are paid by the sub-grantee using the regular payroll, they must be listed in field 21 so they can be subtracted from total hours paid. If they are paid by the employer, they should not be entered in field 21 because they are not included in field 19 and thus there is no reason to subtract them. When the sub-grantee reimburses the employer for OJE wages, the sub-grantee may use a purchase order or some other form of payment that is outside of the participant payroll system. In that situation as well, the OJE hours are not included in the total hours paid in field 19. Since the hours in OJE do not need to be subtracted from the total hours paid, they should not be listed in field 21. • Note: Pursuant to OWB 04-04, you will need to track the number of weeks in OJE to make sure that they are within the durational limit.
Topic 34	Hours of community service, how to calculate	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grantees do not calculate hours of community service. The program that generates the QPR will do the calculation using the information you provide in fields 19 and 21 of this form. • You do not need to make any adjustment for fringe benefits received, such as vacation pay. Such benefits may be included in the total hours paid in the quarter, field 19, in order to simplify your reporting of the data.

Exit Form Guide

Form Heading 1 (Revised)	Exit Form	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This form is used to record when a participant ends his or her last community service assignment and is no longer being paid wages. • “Exit” has several different meanings for the data collection and reporting system. For the performance measures, an exit recorded on this form may not be considered final until a certain amount of time has passed. For example, if a participant has exited the program to enter unsubsidized employment, a SCSEP placement has not occurred until the participant has been employed for 30 days within the first 90 days after exit. You should code the exit as due to unsubsidized employment, field 5, at the time it occurs. However, if the unsubsidized employment lasts for fewer than 30 days in the first 90 days after exit, the participant is entitled to a new host agency assignment without having to re-enroll, i.e., without completing a new Participant Form. See Right of Return, Topic 2. If the participant elects to return to the program, the “exit” will be reversed and will not be counted in the performance measures. You will delete the exit reason and the date of exit. (See description of field 5 below.) • For the Common Measures, an exit does not occur (and the individual is not included in the performance measures) until the participant has gone 90 days without a service from the program. Therefore, an individual who exits but receives a SCSEP service (which requires a new host agency assignment) within 90 days through re-enrollment, i.e., with a new Participant Form, will be excluded from the Common Measures. In this case, however, the original SCSEP “exit” will remain and a new record will be created to reflect the re-enrollment. • Similarly, a participant who exits from one project but is transferred to another project has not officially exited the program and is not included in the performance measures until the participant has truly exited the project to which he or she was transferred. The movement of a participant from one sub-grantee to another sub-grantee within the same grantee is not an exit but is also recorded on the Exit Form. (See Topic 8 below and new field 6a below.) • Normally, once an individual exits, he or she cannot become a participant again without re-enrolling. Re-enrollment requires the completion of a new Participant Form and a new Community Service Assignment Form. (See discussion of field 5 and Topic 2 for an exception.) • Do not use the Exit Form to record that a participant is on an approved break in participation, field 15a of the Community Service Assignment Form. Such an individual is still a participant. If the participant decides not to return from the leave and to cease participation in the program, you will record the exit at that point. The date of exit will be the date on which the participant

The mailing address fields will be used to generate letters and mailing labels for the customer satisfaction survey. There is no minimum number of hours per week required for a qualified placement. An OJE is not considered unsubsidized employment. A placement does not occur until the OJE has ended, the participant has exited the program, and the employer has officially hired the participant. • Check “Yes, self-employment” if the participant exited the program to engage in self-employment. A self-employed individual includes someone who operates a business or profession as a sole proprietor, partner in a partnership, independent contractor, or consultant.

The individual does not have to prove income from the business, but the receipt of income would suffice to establish self-employment. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check “No” if the participant exited for some reason other than unsubsidized employment (field 6) or if you are closing the participant’s record for one of the reasons in field 6a. You must check “no” in field 5 before you will be allowed to enter a value in either field 6 or field 6a. SPARQ will not accept an exit from either WebDCS or non-WebDCS users unless field 5 is completed. • A placement does not become official and is not included in the performance measures unless the participant is employed for 30 days within the first 90 days after exit. You should record the exit as due to unsubsidized employment at the time it occurs. A participant whose placement does not last for 30 days is entitled to re-enter the program. If the participant elects to return to the program, you must delete the exit and create a new community service assignment. If you delete the exit, enter a note in the comments field, field 10. If the participant does not elect to return to the program, the exit remains as originally coded and no comment is required. See Topic 2.
Topic 2 (Revised)	Right of return and re-enrollment: priorities/preferences	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The right of return is limited to those participants who exit for unsubsidized employment but do not achieve 30 days of employment within 90 days of exit. They are allowed to return to the program within 90 days without being subject to the priorities and preferences. Their exit is reversed, and they are treated as though they never left the program. You do not fill out a new Participant Form for them. You must assign a returning participant to a host agency, either the one the participant left or a new one. You must create a new host agency assignment even if you reassign the participant to the old host agency. If there is no slot available at the time the participant seeks to return, the participant should be placed on an approved break in participation (field 15a of the Community Service Assignment Form) and given the next available assignment. • There are two boxes in field 26(d) of the Unsubsidized Employment Form that you can use to record whether a participant whose placement failed to last for 30 days will remain exited or is electing to return to the program. If the placement fails and the participant chooses to remain exited (either to accept new unsubsidized employment or to withdraw from the labor market),

The participant will not be included in the outcome measures until the participant again exits the program. • You can choose to re-enroll a participant who exited for any reason provided the participant is not job ready and meets the other eligibility requirements. Re-enrollment is not limited to 90 days of exit. It does require a new application and a new Participant Form. A participant seeking to re-enroll is subject to the priorities of service and preferences in effect at the time. If there are no available slots or the re-enrolling participant is lower in priority or preference than other applicants, you can place the re-enrolling participant on the waiting list.
Topic 3 (Revised)	Placement discovered after exit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The performance system will count any placement that becomes official – i.e., lasts for 30 days within 90 days of exit – regardless of whether the placement occurred at the time of exit or subsequent to exit. If you discover the placement after the participant exited, you should complete an Unsubsidized Employment Form and conduct the three follow-ups. • You do not change the original exit date and exit reason as entered on the Exit Form. The system will detect the placement from the Unsubsidized Employment Form. • It may be worthwhile to stay in touch with some participants (especially those who are most job-ready) who exit the program for personal reasons to determine whether their circumstances have changed. They may have obtained employment on their own or they may be interested in your assistance in finding employment. If no employment is begun by the sixtieth day after exit, there is no reason to continue following these participants for placement purposes.

6a (New)	Non-exit reasons for closing the record	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This field is for closing your record when the applicant or participant has left your project but has not truly exited SCSEP or when you are resolving a dual enrollment. • Use field 6a(i) for applicants who withdraw from the waiting list or who otherwise withdraw their applications after being determined eligible but before being assigned to community service. Once the participant has been assigned to community service, you must use field 6 to exit the participant. If an applicant withdraws prior to the eligibility determination, use field 35(d) of the Participant Form to determine the applicant ineligible. • Use field 6a(ii) for recording the grantee to which a participant has been transferred. In SPARQ, this field will be generated by the batch change of entity function. However, you will still want to record the name and code of the recipient grantee on the hard copy form so that your case records are complete. • Use field 6a(iii) to record the sub-grantee to which the participant has moved when there has been a change of sub-grantee within the grantee. Because the batch change of entity function will cause the participant’s record to be reassigned to the recipient sub-grantee, this field is not active in SPARQ. However, you will still want to record the name and code of the recipient sub-grantee on the hard copy form so that your case records are complete.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Use field 6a(iv) to record a termination by the secondary grantee when a dual enrollment has been detected. Dual enrollments do not result in credit for the SCSEP performance measures.
Topic 4 (New)	Exiting participants who have gone missing or fail to return from a leave of absence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> For missing participants, you should use 6(ii), for cause. Participants have an obligation to keep in touch with you. Their failure to do so justifies your terminating them. Depending on the reason for the participant's failure to return, you may also use 6(ii), for cause, to record the participant's exceeding the maximum duration of a leave of absence.
Topic 5 (New)	Removing applicants from the waiting list for administrative reasons	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Applicants on the waiting list are not participants and thus cannot have true exits. However, there is a field on the Exit Form (6a(i)) that will allow you to close your record when someone withdraws an application or withdraws from the waiting list. This is the only field you can use in these circumstances. You should enter into the field 7 of the Exit Form the date on which you formally removed the applicant from the waiting list. That will generally be the date of data entry unless you have documented an earlier date on the hard copy Exit Form or some other document. Unless you have a written policy governing removal from the waiting list, removing someone for administrative reasons may be problematic. An applicant has an absolute right to apply to the program, and the rules require you to place on the waiting list any eligible applicant who is not assigned to a host agency within two weeks of being determined eligible. Therefore, the applicant would presumably be able to insist on filing a new application and being put back on the waiting list. You should enter a case note in the comments field of the Exit Form explaining the reason for removing the applicant from the waiting list, especially if the administrative reason involves fault on the part of the applicant – e.g., falsifying the eligibility information. Except in cases of falsification of eligibility information, you should generally provide 30 days written notice before removing someone from the waiting list on your own initiative. Obviously, no notice is required when the applicant informs you that he or she is no longer interested in the program.
Topic 6	Closing the record of applicants who are determined not eligible	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Applicants who were not determined eligible include both those determined ineligible and those who changed their mind in the middle of the application process. In either case, you complete fields 34-36, 42, and 43 of the Participant Form. You do not enter any information into the Exit Form.

Topic 7 (Revised)	Transfer vs. re-enrollment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Transfers between grantees are done for a variety of purposes: to reflect the results of a new competitive process for national grantees; to achieve equitable distribution; to avoid disruption of service; to simplify administration when the same host agency has participants assigned from multiple projects; and to allow national grantees to swap slots in the same or different states in order to make their operations more efficient. Transfers require the approval of the state grantee where the slots are located and the national office. • Transfers must be done by agreement of two grantees, not the unilateral action of a participant. When a participant has been transferred, the participant retains the status that he or she had at the transferring project. The participant does not have to be recertified (as long as the last eligibility check was within the last 12 months), nor is the participant subject to priority of service and preferences at the new project. A participant can always terminate from one project and seek to re-enroll in another project. However, such unilateral action requires a new application with an eligibility determination and is subject to the priority/preferences in effect at the new project at the time of application. • Typically when a participant moves from the area, the participant terminates from the first project and seeks to re-enroll in the new project. However, nothing prevents the project that the participant is leaving from contacting the new project and seeing if a transfer is possible. The new project will not be able to accept the transfer if it does not have any slots available. Furthermore, it is not obligated to accept the transfer, and it may not be willing to accept the transfer if it has higher preference applicants on its waiting list. • When there has been a transfer (as opposed to an exit and a re-enrollment), the first project does not have a true exit and thus does not have an outcome that is reflected in its performance measures. The true exit occurs when the participant leaves the new project. At that time, both projects will have the outcome reflected in their QPRs. • During the competitive process for national grantees in PY 2005, no transfers may be made. When transfers are again permitted, SPARQ will contain a utility for implementing the transfer. See the discussion of field 17 of the Participant Form Guide.

Exit Form Guide

Number	Element Name/ Topic	Element Description/Explanation Plus Additional Comments
Topic 8 (Revised)	Transfer vs. change of sub- grantee	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The change of a sub-grantee – whether for an entire project or for a single participant – is neither a transfer nor a re-enrollment. A transfer can only occur between grantees. A change of sub-grantees occurs within a single grantee. Neither SPARQ 1 nor SPARQ 2 makes provision for such a change. SPARQ 2.X will contain a utility for changing entities – either transferring participants from one grantee to another or changing sub-grantees within a grantee. • The new utility can be used to change the sub-grantee for a single participant or multiple participants. The grantee administrator will enter the codes of the donor and recipient grantees into the utility. SPARQ will then move the affected participation records from the donor sub-grantee to the recipient sub-grantee. • Until the change of entity utility is implemented in SPARQ 2.X, when only a single participant changes sub-grantee, the old sub-grantee will have to manually delete the participant’s record from its database once the new sub-grantee has entered the record. On the other hand, when a new sub-grantee is taking over the entire project from the old sub-grantee, the new sub-grantee can use the sub-grantee code of the old sub-grantee, thus ensuring that the records from the old sub-grantee are replaced by the records submitted by the new sub-grantee. • The hard copy Exit Form contains a field (6(a)(iii)) for the donor sub-grantee to indicate that it has lost a participant to the recipient sub-grantee and to record the code of the recipient sub-grantee. In the WebDCS, however, this field is grayed out. Field 17a of the Participant Form, which indicates the code of the donor sub-grantee, will be system-generated by the change of entity utility in SPARQ 2.X. This field is also grayed out in the WebDCS. • For changes of sub-grantee that occur during a program year, the performance of the old sub-grantee will be merged with the performance of the new sub-grantee for all QPRs after the date of the change in sub-grantee and for the Final QPR. Although this may lead to some inaccuracy in the reported performance of the new sub-grantee for the balance of the program year, the QPR for the grantee, which is all that is used for official monitoring of performance, will be accurate. As long as everyone understands that the QPR for the new sub-grantee includes performance by the old sub-grantee, the new sub-grantee should not be unfairly evaluated.

Topic 9	Accumulated benefits, effect on dates of exit/placement	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The receipt of accumulated benefits such as vacation pay beyond a participant’s assignment to a host agency does not delay the date of exit. The exit date is the last day for which the participant receives wages for performing services. This does not include accumulated or deferred benefits. • The first day that the participant starts unsubsidized employment is used to determine the date of placement. It is that date that starts the 30-day clock for determining placement. • For example, assume the participant leaves a host agency for unsubsidized employment on June 1, receives accumulated vacation pay that keeps her on the payroll until June 7, and actually starts the unsubsidized employment on June 5. The date of exit would be June 1, and the date of placement (assuming 30 days of employment within the first 90 days of exit) would be June 5.
Form Heading 2	Waiver of Confidentiality	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The waiver of confidentiality is only applicable to participants who are placed into unsubsidized employment. The waiver may make it easier for you to obtain the follow-up information from the employer. The participant should be encouraged to sign the waiver but cannot be required to do so. The participant’s failure to sign does not relieve you of the obligation to conduct follow-up activity with the employer. • Before having the participant sign the waiver, write the participant’s name in the first blank, the employer’s name in the second blank, and the name of the sub-grantee in the third blank. • You may use any form of the waiver that you wish. If you prefer, you can have the participant sign a general waiver at the time of enrollment. In that case, you would need to modify the language to refer to employers generally and to indicate that the waiver is effective for 13 months from the date of exit rather than the date of signing.

Topic 2 (New)	Rule against entering duplicate organizations into SPARQ database	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SPARQ will not permit users to enter an organization into the database if that identical organization already exists. Organizations are considered identical if: (1) they have the same FEIN; or (2) they have the same name and their mailing addresses are in the same state. WebDCS users will be blocked from entering a duplicate organization into the database; non-WebDCS users will have any record with a duplicate organization rejected. • There are circumstances where using the name and FEIN of the parent organization will not be feasible. See Topics 6 and 7 of the Community Service Assignment Form Guide. In those cases, you may enter multiple organizations with similar but not identical names in the same state. For example, Goodwill LA North, Goodwill LA Central, Goodwill LA East, if they are entered without any FEIN, are all considered unique organizations even though they are all in the state of California. You should only list the FEIN if you attach it to the parent organization. • If a WebDCS user attempts to enter an organization that already exists in the database, the user will be asked whether he or she wants to use the existing organization. If not, the user will be required to change the name of the organization to one that is unique. • The first sub-grantee that enters an organization is considered the “owner” of that organization and is the only user allowed to change the basic organization information in fields 4-6. A non-owner that wishes to change any of this information must contact the owner to do so. The name of the owner is displayed as part of the organization search function in SPARQ 2. • Field 9b is not unique to the employer and may be different for each grantee using that employer. Fields 7, 8, and 9 belong to a particular placement and thus can be different for each placement. In future releases of the WebDCS, field 7 may be system-generated and will be unique to the employer.
Topic 3	Using stored host agency information in the WebDCS when a host agency becomes an employer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • WebDCS users can designate an existing host agency as an employer without having to re-enter basic organization information. By selecting the edit button after selecting an existing organization from the Organizations function on the main page, the user can designate the existing organization in any additional capacity, for example, an existing host agency can also be designated as a training provider and an employer. • When you give an existing organization a new capacity, you will only have to add the fields that are specific to the new capacity. For an employer, the only additional field is 9b.

6d (Revised)	Self-employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Self-employment may be verified by any proof that the individual has started a business, such as tax registration, business cards or invoices, or a state license. The individual does not have to prove income from the business, but the receipt of income would suffice to establish self-employment. If the participant is working completely under the table and does not want to provide you with any documentation of his self-employment venture, such as licensing, invoices, or advertising, you may not be able to claim the placement. You must document self-employment just like you must document employment. You cannot merely take the participant's word for it. If the participant is self-employed, you will only need to capture minimal information on these sections of the Unsubsidized Employment Form: Fields 1-3, 6, 14, 15, 18, and 20. A self-employed participant will not receive the employer survey (although the individual may be selected for the participant survey) but will be included in the SCSEP measures (placement and retention) and two of the Common Measures (entered employment and retention). Self-employed participants will not be included in the average earnings measure. All three follow-ups are required.
Topic 4 (Revised)	Determining whether the participant is self-employed or an employee	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There is no simple way to determine if a participant is truly self-employed or is being forced to work as an independent contractor by an entity that should be considered the participant's employer. It is a question of state law whether the participant is an employee or an independent contractor (self-employed). In many states, the participant is considered an employee unless she held herself out to the public as being engaged in her occupation and was free from direction and control in the performance of her duties. For unskilled, unlicensed work, this is a very hard standard to meet. If you believe that the participant is being forced to work under the table and is being deprived

You should also inform the participant that you are required to contact the employer to confirm the employment and to obtain wage information. Your involvement should be sufficient to persuade the employer to comply with the law. Any retaliation against the participant by the employer would expose the employer to serious liability. On the other hand, if the participant is fully aware of her rights and is comfortable with being paid as an independent contractor, you may not wish to interfere. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For SCSEP purposes, there is not a significant difference in the way you treat an individual who is self-employed versus an individual working as an employee for an employer. For self-employed participants, you will do somewhat less follow-up and you will not be delivering the employer survey. The follow-up issue for self-employed participants is addressed in Topic 16 below. • Self-employment should not be confused with temporary or on-call employment, such as substitute teaching or working for a temporary employment agency. The distinction can be especially difficult when dealing with home aides, who may be both self-employed when they are caring for private clients directly and employed by an agency when placed in a client's home. Again, state labor law officials are your best resource for making this determination.
7	Is employer a host agency?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Unsubsidized employers that have served as a host agency for this participant or any other participant (under any state or national grant) in the last 12 months will not be included in the customer service survey of employers. They will be in the pool for the host agency survey.

OJE placements for the main SCSEP grantee and sub-grantee are a subset of regular program placements. Section 502(e) grantees receive their own QPR but the information on placement of Section 502(e) participants must be entered into SPARQ by the cooperating main SCSEP program sub-grantee.

Topic 5 (Revised)	Section 502(e) placements and the performance measures	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 502(e) grantees receive a separate QPR, but they do not have the ability to input data into SPARQ. Their QPRs and the credit which their partners in the main SCSEP program receive are generated by the data that the partner sub-grantee enters into SPARQ. There are fields on both the Participant Form and the Unsubsidized Employment Form that identify Section 502(e) placements. The system will generate these measures for the Section 502(e) program, as well as for the regular program. • Under the regulations, if a single grantee has registered the participant in both the regular program and the Section 502(e) program, the placement is only counted once, in the Section 502(e) program. The participant will be excluded from the calculation of the regular program placement rate. If one grantee has registered the participant in the regular program and another grantee has placed the participant in the Section 502(e) program, both grantees receive credit for the placement. As long as field 40f of the Participant Form has the name and code of the Section 502(e) grantee and field 8 of the Unsubsidized Employment Form indicates that the employer provided a Section 502(e) training site assignment for the participant, SPARQ will automatically credit both grantees when the outcome data are reported. • The Section 502(e) grantee is required to conduct the follow-up activity. The regular program grantee will do the appropriate data entry: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Field 40f of the Participant Form to indicate co-enrollment in the Section 502(e) program ○ Field 5 of the Exit Form to indicate an exit for unsubsidized employment ○ The entire Unsubsidized Employment Form, especially field 8, to record the placement activity.

Full-time work means work of at least 40 hours per week, or such lesser amount as determined by the employer to constitute full-time work. • The rules have been revised to reflect that all part-time placements may be counted. There is no requirement that the job provide at least 20 hours of work per week or that it be more favorable than the prior SCSEP assignment. If the participant received any income greater than zero from unsubsidized employment (or was self-employed), the placement will count if it lasts at least 30 days in the 90 days following exit. This approach is consistent with the Common Measures definition of entered employment.

Form Heading 7	Customer Service Survey Information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> This section is used to record the pre-printed number on the survey instrument delivered to the employer and the date on which the instrument was delivered. To obtain the required response rate (70%), sub-grantees will have to deliver a second survey to those employers that do not complete the first survey. The information for this section must be provided by the sub-grantee when the customer service survey is administered to an employer. The information is only provided for those employers selected for the survey. An employer is only selected for the survey once each year at the time of the first 30-day follow-up for a new placement that meets the selection criteria. Employers that are host agencies will not receive the employer survey. Employers that did not have substantial contact with the sub-grantee at the time of placement will not receive a survey. Self-employed individuals will not receive the employer survey. Employers will be surveyed even if the placement did not last for 30 days.
Topic 6 (Revised)	Employer survey when sub-grantee works for two grantees	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> If an employer hires two participants, one from each grantee for which the sub-grantee works, the employer should only be surveyed for the first placement. If the two placements happened simultaneously, you should flip a coin to determine which grantee’s survey you use. For sub-grantees that work for two grantees, it is no longer necessary to maintain different survey number sequences for each grantee. Credit for surveys is now determined solely by the entry of a survey number and delivery date into field 23 (and 24 for second surveys) of the unsubsidized Employment Form for a particular placement. If the sub-grantee works for two different grantees, it will have to indicate which grantee owns the enrollment when the record is first entered into SPARQ. The ownership of the enrollment and the entry of the survey number into field 23 will determine which grantee receives credit for the survey.

Topic 7 (New)	Which employers receive surveys	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You must deliver a survey to a qualified employer even if the placement fails. In such cases, you should deliver the survey as soon as you learn that the participant has left the employer. You should not deliver the survey any later than 90 days after the participant's first day of employment with that employer. After that date, the employer's recollection of the circumstances surrounding the placement will be too dim. • You are not required to deliver surveys to any employers with which the participant starts employment more than 90 days after the date of exit; however, you are free to survey all qualifying employers during the entire 12 month follow-up period if you wish. You must be certain, however, that you follow the same rules of administration that are required for surveys during the first 90 days: only survey employers that qualify; do not survey host agencies; do not survey employers more than once in a program year; and survey all qualifying employers – whether or not the participant stays employed with the employer – approximately 30 days after the placement begins. You cannot choose to survey only successful placements. If you opt to survey placements after 90 days, you must survey both successful and unsuccessful placements. • Do not forget to enter the survey number and date of delivery into field 23 of the Unsubsidized Employment Form (and field 24 if you deliver a second survey to the same employer) whenever you survey an employer.
23	CS Survey #1; date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter in this field the survey number and date for the first survey delivered to a qualified employer. At this time, sub-grantees are not required to deliver a third survey. • If a third survey is not delivered, leave this field blank.
Form Heading 8	Follow-up Information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow-ups are required in order to obtain information needed for the performance measures, to provide case management to the newly placed participant, to establish or maintain contact with the employer, and to deliver the customer service survey to the employer. The system has been designed to require the minimum possible number of follow-ups. • If efforts to obtain the information from the employer are unsuccessful, the sub-grantee may obtain the information from the participant. • Failure to conduct required follow-ups may be considered a violation of the administrative requirements of the grant. • If you are unable to obtain the follow-up information, you can so indicate for each of the follow-ups. However, incomplete follow-up information, regardless of the reason for the incompleteness, will have a negative effect on performance measures and may jeopardize the grantee's funding.
Topic 8 (Revised)	Documenting follow-up information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When you conduct the three required follow-ups, it is important that you document the information you receive regarding employment and wage information. This documentation is required for the Common Measures and is likely to be required for data validation as well. • If you rely on documents, you should copy the documents for the file. If you use the phone or an in-person interview, you should use the comment field on the Unsubsidized Employment Form to record the individual spoken to, the date, the information conveyed, and the case worker who obtained the information. For example, "Follow-up 2: Spoke to bookkeeper Roger Johnson by phone on 1/25/05. He reported that participant was still employed at 180 days and that the participant received wages in the quarter October 1 - December 31. BP" • For self-employment, you should also copy and file any documents that you used to determine that the participant was engaged in a bona fide business.
Topic 9	Follow-up information, how to obtain from employer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The follow-up information is best obtained from the employer. Participants may not work consistent hours and may not keep accurate records of their pay for the quarter. You must make reasonable efforts to obtain the information from the employer before you seek it from the participant. The participant is not required to sign the waiver of confidentiality. However, even if the participant does not sign the waiver or wish you to contact the employer, you are still required to obtain the information from the employer.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Although some participants may be reluctant to have their employers know about their participation in SCSEP, it is important that employers become aware of the program. Doing the follow-up activity with the employer is an opportunity for you to establish a relationship with the employer that may lead to additional placements. You should attempt to assure participants that their involvement with SCSEP will be seen as a positive factor by employers and will not in any way jeopardize their employment. You should discuss this issue at orientation so participants understand how important employer contact is to the program and are not surprised at exit to discover that you will be contacting their employers.
Topic 10	Follow-up information, inability to obtain	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> All exiters (with a few limited exceptions) are included in the performance measures. If the sub-grantee does not record the required employment or wage information into the SCSEP data collection system by the specified deadlines, the absence of data is treated as though the exiter had no employment or wages. Placement, entered employment, retention, or average earnings could be affected, depending on which information is missing. The national office recognizes that some employers may be reluctant to provide the required information. For that reason, it has recommended that the sub-grantee obtain a waiver of confidentiality from the participant at the time of exit and that the sub-grantee conduct the 30-day follow-up in person. This first follow-up will provide an opportunity for the sub-grantee to establish a relationship with the employer and to explain the importance of the follow-up information before the sub-grantee has to ask the employer for wage information. Furthermore, if the employer is unwilling to provide the information, the sub-grantee may obtain it from the participant. There may be cases where the participant can no longer be located, but these should be fairly uncommon. For those rare instances where the sub-grantee cannot obtain the information from either the employer or the participant, there is a code in fields 26, 29 and 30 of the follow-up section of this form for the sub-grantee to indicate that it could not obtain the information. Although entering this code will not prevent the exiter from being counted negatively in the performance measures, it will give the sub-grantee a way to track and document the extent of the problem. This issue will be eliminated once DOL obtains access to the UI wage records for all of the national programs.

Topic 11	Follow-ups for participants working under the table and unwilling to reveal their employers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant refuses to provide any information about the employer, you will not receive any credit at all, either in the performance measures or in Section B of the QPR, which reports non-qualifying placements. A non-qualifying placement is one that does not last for 30 days. Non-qualifying placements must be documented within the data system. • If the participant is working under the table, you should inform the participant that the arrangement is illegal, that the participant is entitled to all of the protections of state and federal wage and hours laws, and that you can assist the participant in filing a complaint with the appropriate authorities. You should also inform the participant that you are required to contact the employer to confirm the employment and to obtain wage information. Your involvement should be sufficient to persuade the employer to comply with the law. Any retaliation against the participant by the employer would expose the employer to serious liability. • If the participant is willing to identify the employer and the participant is employed for 30 days within the first 90 days following exit, the placement will count toward your goal regardless of the employer's method of paying the participant. Workers are sometimes compelled by their employers to accept illegal working conditions. Neither you nor the participant should be penalized for the employer's actions.
Topic 12 (Revised)	Quarter, definition of	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For purposes of the data collection system and the performance measures, a quarter always means a calendar quarter: July 1-September 30; October 1-December 31; January 1-March 31; and April 1-June 30. The Common Measures refer to the quarter after the quarter in which something happens. • For example, Common Measures entered employment requires that the participant have wages in the first quarter after the quarter of exit. Therefore, if the participant exited and started unsubsidized employment on July 5, you would need to determine if there were any wages for the period October 1-December 31, the first quarter after the quarter in which the exit occurred. You would not be concerned with whether there were wages from July 5-September 30, which is the quarter of exit. • Similarly, the Common Measures average earnings measure requires the total amount of the participant's earnings in both the second and third quarters after the quarter of exit. In the example above, the second quarter after the exit quarter would be January 1-March 31, and the third quarter after the exit quarter would be April 1 to June 30.

Topic 13 (Revised)	Follow-ups, due dates for completing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The due dates for completing the three follow-ups are different for each of the follow-ups. If a follow-up is not completed by the due date, the measures that are the subject of that follow-up will be considered as a failure in the QPR for that quarter, e.g., no retention or zero wages for the quarter. Subject to the rules in Topic 14 below, grantees will be allowed to correct data and to provide missing data, including follow-up data, in subsequent quarters. For example, if a follow-up is completed in the quarter after the quarter in which the 120th day after exit falls or the 210th day after placement falls, the grantee will be given credit for the placement or retention in that subsequent quarter's report. Additionally, grantees will have until 90 days after the end of the fourth quarter to submit late follow-up information for the generation of the Final QPR. Any follow-up that was not completed in the required quarter or in a subsequent quarter of the program year and was thus counted as a failure may be submitted during this 90-day close-out period and will be included in the Final QPR (as long as the 120th day after exit or the 210th day after placement falls during that program year). The Final QPR will be used to determine whether a grantee has met its negotiated performance goals. • Follow-up 1 is designed for case management purposes and for delivering the customer satisfaction survey to the employer, as well as for establishing placement. Therefore, it should be completed as close to the 30-day date as possible. For the vast majority of participants, this will be 30 days after the start of work. Under the statutory definition of placement, however, the 30-day date may be achieved any time within the first 90 days after the date of exit. The data system adds 30 days to this 90-day date and then gives you to the end of the quarter in which the 120th day falls to complete the follow-up. Any follow-up completed by the end of that quarter (and at least 30 days after the start of work) is considered timely. For the final QPR, you have until September 30 after the end of the program year in which 120th day after exit falls. • Follow-up 2 is solely for the performance measures. Again, the system adds 30 days to the 180-day date and allows you to the end of the quarter in which the 210th day falls to complete the follow-up. Any follow-up completed by the end of that quarter (and at least 180 days after the start of work) is considered timely. For the final QPR, you have until September 30 after the end of the program year in which 210th day after the first start work date falls. • Both Follow-up 1 and Follow-up 2 are driven by the date of placement and thus are scheduled on a rolling basis. Follow-up 3, which is solely for the Common Measures, is scheduled for the end of the third quarter after the quarter of exit. Because you must wait for the third quarter to end to have complete wages for that quarter, you will wind up doing the third follow-up at least a week or two after

The follow-up may be conducted as early as 30 days after the date of placement, which would be in either PY2005 Q1 or PY2005 Q2. For the final QPR, you have until September 30, 2006, to complete Follow-up 1 and receive credit for the placement. Follow-up 2 must be completed in the quarter in which falls the 210th day after the earliest start employment date. This will be either PY2005 Q3 or PY2005 Q4, and must always be after the first quarter after the quarter of exit (in this example, PY2005 Q2) so that you can determine whether there were any wages for that quarter. Follow-up 2 may be completed as early as 180 days after the earliest date of placement, which would be in either PY2005 Q3 or PY2005 Q4. For the final QPR, you have until September 30, 2006, to complete Follow-up 2 and receive credit for SCSEP retention and Common Measures entered employment. Follow-up 3 is conducted after the close of the third quarter after the quarter of exit, i.e. – during the fourth quarter after the quarter of exit. In this example, it must be completed in PY 2006 Q1. Topic 14 (Revised)	Rules for determining in which quarter and program year performance outcomes will be reported	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SCSEP has adopted a very flexible schedule for reporting that accommodates early credit for performance outcomes. The technical implementation of this system requires additional logic to ensure that performance is counted correctly. The reporting system accommodates early reporting and delayed reporting, but not late reporting. For each of the measures, the following key concepts drive the reporting logic: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Relevant follow-up date is the completion date for the follow-up used to determine performance success. ○ Due date for follow-ups. If a follow-up is not completed by the due date, it is counted as a failure in that quarter. If it is subsequently completed, it may or may not be counted depending upon the timing conditions described below. Each performance measure has a rule for determining the due date. See Topic 13 above. ○ Last reporting program year is the last program year (July 1 through June 30) in which the relevant follow-up can be included in the performance outcome. The last reporting program year is the program year in which the due date falls. ○ Earliest reporting date for a successful follow-up is the earliest follow-up completion date that SPARQ will accept for a positive outcome. Each performance measure has a rule that can be used to determine the earliest reporting date for the recording of a successful follow-up. ○ Prior program year is the year before the last reporting program year. If the earliest reporting date is in the program year prior to the last reporting program year, the performance outcome can be counted in the prior program year depending on the relevant follow-up date. If the earliest reporting date is in the last reporting program year, the performance outcome can only be counted in the last reporting program year. • Given the possible combinations of the five concepts described above, performance outcomes can be classified into five types: (1) normal; (2) early; (3) delayed – reported in last program year; (4) delayed – reported in prior program year; and (5) late. The following tables display the five types of reporting for SCSEP performance outcomes and the rules for determining in which program year the credit will be reflected. There are two additional tables for the Common Measures.

Topic 15 (Revised)	WebDCS follow-up reports and scheduled dates	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SPARQ 2 (and 2.x) contains management reports for pending follow-ups and overdue follow-ups (those pending more than 20 days after the scheduled date.), as well as follow-ups by month. The scheduled dates in the management reports are the same as those used in the WebDCS for fields 26a, 29a, and 30a. • For Follow-up 1, the scheduled date is 30 days from the first start employment date for the first unsubsidized employment. For all unsubsidized employments after the first, the scheduled date is 90 days from the date of exit. • For Follow-up 2, if there has been a placement, the scheduled date is 180 days after the first start employment date or the first day of the second quarter after the exit quarter, whichever is later. If there is no a placement, the scheduled date is the first day of the second quarter after the exit quarter. • For Follow-up 3, the scheduled date is the first day of the fourth quarter after the quarter of exit.
Topic 16 (Revised)	Follow-ups for self-employed participants	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Self-employment is counted for SCSEP placement and retention and the Common Measures entered employment and retention measures. That requires you to do all three follow-ups. Self-employed individuals are excluded from the Common Measures average earnings measure. • You must document that the participant is engaged in a bona fide business, but you do not obtain any information about income or earnings. Self-employment may be verified by any proof that the individual is engaged in a business, such as tax registration, business cards or invoices, or a state license. The individual does not have to prove income from the business, but the receipt of income would suffice to establish self-employment. • Although a self-employed participant has no reported wages, you use fields 29c(vi), 30c(vi), and 30e(vi) of the UE form to record that the participant is still self-employed during the first, second and third quarters after the quarter of exit. This will provide you with credit for Common Measures Entered Employment and Retention. You record SCSEP placement in field 26c for a self-employed participant and SCSEP retention in field 29d, as you do for all other participants. • For Follow-up 1, you capture all listed information. • For Follow-up 2, capture all listed information. You indicate yes (vi) in field 29c if the participant was still engaged in self-employment at any time during the first quarter after the quarter of exit. • For Follow-up 3, you capture all listed information, except you do not enter any wages into fields 30d or 30f. You indicate yes (vi) in field 30c if the participant was still engaged in self-employment at any time during the second quarter after the quarter of exit, and you indicate yes (vi) in field 30e if the participant was still engaged in self-employment at any time during the third quarter after the quarter of exit.

Topic 17 (New)	Follow-ups for exited participants who have no employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You need to fill out an Unsubsidized Employment Form for each employer that a participant has during the follow-up period, generally the first 12 months after exit. If you know that the participant has failed to achieve a placement with an employer, you should indicate "no" in field 26d and enter the date of the follow-up in field 26c. If you do not complete the fields for Follow-up 1, the placement will be treated as a failure. • You do not necessarily need to wait 90 days to conduct Follow-up 1 for a given employer. 90 days after the date of exit is the last day for a participant to achieve a placement (30 days of employment with one or more employers). However, if you know that the placement has failed or succeeded, you may complete the follow-up for a given employer at any time. (Obviously, you cannot record a successful placement until there has been a total of 30 days of employment.) • If a participant is excluded at the time of exit and does not subsequently begin employment, you do not need to do any follow-up with that participant. However, if the participant becomes employed at any time within the first 90 days after exit or within the first quarter after the quarter of exit, you do need to create an Unsubsidized Employment Form and conduct the necessary follow-ups. If the participant becomes excluded at Follow-up 1 or Follow-up 2, you do not have to conduct subsequent follow-ups. • If the participant starts work more than 60 days after the date of exit, she or he can no longer achieve a placement, but could still achieve Common Measures entered employment. In this case, you do not need to conduct Follow-up 1, but you do conduct Follow-up 2 to record whether there were wages in the first quarter after the quarter of exit. If there were any wages (you do not record the amount of earnings), the participant has entered employment and you will need to do Follow-up 3 for Common Measures retention and average earnings. The average earnings measure requires you to collect all wages from all employers during both the second and third quarters after the quarter of exit. • Field 28 of the Unsubsidized Employment Form is for the Common Measures. If the participant re-enrolls within 90 days of the date of exit, the Common Measures do not apply. You would still do Follow-up 1, however, to receive credit for a placement if it occurred before the participant re-enrolled. You would not conduct Follow-up 2 or Follow-up 3 because there can be no SCSEP retention and the Common Measures are not applicable.

Topic 18 (Revised)	“Orphan exiters”: follow-up for participants who exited before a sub-grantee has gone out of business	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Whenever a total change of sub-grantee occurs, there may be exited participants who are still in the follow-up period, typically 12 months after the date of exit. Since these “orphan exiters” are not active participants, the question arises as to which entity will handle their follow-up once the old sub-grantee goes out of business. • You cannot transfer participants who exited from a closing sub-grantee. Once an exit has occurred for any reason, you can no longer enter a transfer into the database. • You can, however, use the batch change of entity function in SPARQ to have the new sub-grantee that is receiving all the active participants from the closing sub-grantee take responsibility for the orphan exiters as well. The easiest way for this to occur is for the receiving sub-grantee to receive the entire database of the closing sub-grantee. At that time, the database of the closing sub-grantee would be deregistered in SPARQ. • If more than one sub-grantee is receiving the active participants from the sub-grantee that is closing, you can still use the change of entity function to assign the orphan exiters to one or more of these recipient sub-grantees. • Alternatively, the grantee itself may perform the follow up activities for the orphan exiters. The grantee has read/write access to the databases of all of its sub-grantees. It could perform the follow-up and update the records of only the orphan exiters while assigning the active participants to one or more sub-grantees. The entire database for the old sub-grantee would be deregistered from SPARQ when the outcomes for the orphan exiters were final. • If you let the sub-grantee go out of business and do not make arrangements for some other entity to do the follow-up for the orphan exiters, you will lose any remaining outcome credit for exited participants. The national office strongly discourages this option because it will negatively affect performance at the grantee and nationwide levels.
26	Follow-up 1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow-up 1 is designed for case management purposes and for delivering the customer satisfaction survey to the employer, as well as for establishing placement. Therefore, it should be completed as close to the 30-day date as possible. For the vast majority of participants, this will be 30 days after the start of work. Under the statutory definition of placement, however, the 30-day date may be achieved any time within the first 90 days after the date of exit. The performance system adds 30 days to this 90-day date and then gives you to the end of the quarter in which the 120th day falls to complete the follow-up. Any follow-up completed by the end of that quarter (and at least 30 days

		after the start of work) is considered timely. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The 30-day follow-up should be conducted in person if at all possible. If it is not feasible to conduct the follow-up in person, it may be conducted by phone, and the customer service survey may be mailed to the contact person. • You will conduct this follow-up with self-employed individuals solely to determine whether they have been self-employed for 30 days. You will not give them the employer survey. • If the participant has multiple employers, you conduct Follow-up 1 with all employers that the participant has until a placement is achieved or 90 days have elapsed after exit, whichever is earlier. If the participant achieves a placement with one employer and then has subsequent employment with another employer, you do not conduct Follow-up 1 with the subsequent employer. You might have to do Follow-up 2 with both the first and second employers depending upon when the first employment ended. • The follow-up with the participant is part of case management. It is an opportunity to see if the placement is going well and to determine whether the participant needs supportive service, counseling, or other assistance to be successful in the placement. If the placement is not working out, the follow-up may be the time to suggest another placement for the participant. • The follow-up is also an opportunity to establish a relationship with the employer if one has not already been established. This may be especially important if the participant obtained the job without assistance from the sub-grantee and the employer is not aware of the connection with the program. This contact allows the sub-grantee to explain SCSEP to the employer, learn about the employer's needs, and begin a relationship that may yield additional placements. • Sub-grantees should use this first follow-up to prepare the employer for the next two follow-ups, when the employer will need to provide employment and wage information. Explaining the need for this information during an in-person conversation may make the employer more willing to cooperate later. • Note: The 30-day follow-up does not itself constitute a substantial service that would render the employer subject to the customer service survey. All employers will receive the 30-day follow-up. Only those employers that have received a substantial service in connection with the placement of the participant will receive the customer service survey during the 30-day follow-up.

26a	Scheduled date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This date is 30 days after the participant first started employment. Unless the first employment results in a successful placement, the system will make the scheduled date for any subsequent employment 90 days after the date of exit, the last date on which a placement can be achieved. • You should enter the scheduled date into this field when the form is first filled out so you will know when to conduct the first follow-up. The WebDCS will automatically provide this date.
26b	Actual 30-day date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter the actual date on which 30 days of employment were achieved. This is the date on which placements become official. It will usually be 30 calendar days from the date on which the participant started work. Do not enter this date unless and until the 30 days are actually achieved. • This date may be up to 90 days after the participant exited the program if the participant ceased employment before 30 days elapsed and then returned to work for any employer within 90 days of exiting the program and had a total of 30 days of employment within that 90-day period. The participant does not need to work continuously for 30 days for any employer or combination of employers. All that is required is that the participant was on the payroll of one or more employers for a total of 30 days. • Put another way, the placement is achieved at 30 days only if the participant has remained employed for the entire period. If the participant was not employed for the entire 30 days, the sub-grantee may have to wait for up to 90 days from exit to know if the placement has been achieved. • If 30 days of employment were not achieved with this employer, leave this field blank.
Topic 19	Temporary or on-call employment, calculating 30 days for placement	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A participant in temporary or on-call employment must work for each of 30 days while a participant in permanent employment may actually work fewer days (especially if the permanent employment is part-time) when achieving an official placement. A permanent employee need only be on an employer's payroll for a total of 30 days. Permanent employment has an expectation of continuing work, which temporary employment does not have. A participant cannot be said to be on the payroll of a temporary employer except when the participant is working and receiving wages.
Topic 20	OJEs and placements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • OJE is a type of training. Because it is subsidized at least in part by the program, it does not qualify as a placement even if the employer directly pays the participants wages during the OJE. Furthermore, a participant must remain enrolled in the program during an OJE. Therefore, the participant does not exit and is not included in the SCSEP or Common Measures performance measures until the OJE ends and the employer has picked up the participant. The start work date on the Unsubsidized Employment Form should be the first day on the employer's payroll after the OJE ended and the participant was exited the program.

26c	Completed date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Enter the date on which the follow-up is conducted by the sub-grantee. • This date is critical for the performance measures. SPARQ not let you submit a follow-up record without this date or with an improper date in this field. • SPARQ contains case management reports that will help you keep track of follow-ups that are pending or overdue.
26d	Employed for 30 days?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check the appropriate box to indicate whether the participant is still employed. If the participant ceased employment within 30 days after starting employment, this determination must be delayed until the placement has been achieved or the 90 days have expired. • If there are multiple employers, only check “yes” for the one with which the participant is employed at the 30-day date. SPARQ will let you submit any number of records with “no” in this field but only one record with “yes.” Once the participant has achieved a placement with one employer, you do not conduct Follow-up 1 again with any subsequent employers. • If the participant did not remain employed for 30 days, check the appropriate box to indicate whether the participant remains exited (either for a new placement or for some other reason) or has returned to the program and received another community service assignment. • If the participant did not remain employed for 30 days within the first 90 days following exit, the participant is entitled to a new community service assignment without having to re-enroll. See Form Heading 1 of the Exit Form Guide and Topic 22 below. • Check the appropriate box to indicate if you were unable to obtain information about the placement from either the employer or the participant. • If you discover that the participant qualifies for one of the exclusions discussed in field 6 of the Exit Form Guide (deceased, medical condition, family care, or institutionalized), check “excluded.” The participant will then be excluded from the relevant performance measures and will not count against your performance. You will not need to conduct Follow-up 2 or Follow-up 3. • If you were unable to obtain the information, you will not be credited with an official SCSEP placement. You will not need to conduct the second and third follow-ups. The participant will be considered as having not entered employment for purposes of the Common Measures.

Topic 21 (New)	Placement credit for participants who do not start community service	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • SPARQ will permit you to create an Unsubsidized Employment Form for an exited participant who never started work at her host agency assignment. You will receive credit for the placement if you complete Follow-up 1 and enter the necessary information into the data system. However, you are not permitted to enroll job-ready applicants. Since you are only supposed to enroll those who need and can benefit from community service, the number of cases where someone obtains a job before starting a community service assignment should be extremely limited. The fact that an applicant got a job so quickly after enrolling suggests that he or she probably was job-ready and may not have been eligible for enrollment. Although you may receive credit for the placement, a monitor would find that the enrollment was improper if the participant should not have been enrolled. • Job-ready applicants should be referred to the One-Stop center. If your MOU so provides, you may conduct job search and placement activity for job-ready applicants. You should determine them ineligible and indicate in field 36 of the Participant Form the action you took to assist them.
Topic 22	Placements that fail; right of return	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant exits for unsubsidized employment and the placement does not last for 30 days within the first 90 days after exit, the participant is entitled to return to the program (within 90 days of exit) without having to re-enroll. Although the participant has this right, you should make every effort to place the participant in a new unsubsidized job before re-assigning the participant to community service. If the participant accepts a new job, you fill out a new Unsubsidized Employment Form and conduct the follow-ups with the new employer. The new employment will be combined with the original employment for determining both the SCSEP measures and the Common Measures. • There are two boxes in field 26(d) of the Unsubsidized Employment Form that you can use to record whether a participant whose placement failed to last for 30 days will remain exited or is electing to return to the program. If the placement fails and the participant chooses to remain exited (either to accept new unsubsidized employment or to withdraw from the labor market), you check the appropriate box in field 26(d) and leave the information on the Exit Form as you originally entered it. • On the other hand, if the participant elects to return to the program, you so indicate in field 26(d) of the Unsubsidized Employment Form and then delete the exit reason (field 5) and the exit date (field 7) from the Exit Form. You also fill out a new Community Service Assignment Form to document the host agency assignment. Use the comment field on the Exit Form to explain what you have done. The participant will not be included in the outcome measures until the participant again exits the program.

Topic 23 (New)	Credit for placements where exit was for reason other than unsubsidized employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The reason for exit on the Exit form does not determine whether you receive credit for a placement. If the participant exited for some other reason but subsequently started unsubsidized employment, you leave the Exit Form as it was. The Exit Form records the reason for exit at the time of exit. You create an unsubsidized employment form and fill it out as you would for any other placement. A "yes" in field 26d will provide you credit for the placement.
Topic 24	Re-enrolling participants who quit their jobs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If the participant quit her job, you will obviously want to take that into consideration in deciding whether to take the participant back into the program. If the participant quit with good cause, e.g., she was unsuited to the work or had a health problem and came back to you for services within 90 days of exit, the participant would be entitled to exercise the right of return. Alternatively, you would be justified in exercising your discretion to permit her to re-enroll if she sought to return after 90 days. Of course, before taking the participant back into the program, you will want to determine whether another placement would be suitable. For example, if the participant quit a job for which she lacked sufficient skill but she was otherwise job-ready, you should attempt to find her a job for which she is better suited. • On the other hand, if the participant quit under conditions that would have amounted to a failure to comply with her IEP – e.g., the job was suitable but she decided that she really did not want to work in any job – you might not let her exercise the right of return, or you could take her back only if she agreed to cooperate in the future and you could treat the quit as a failure to accept a job referral under the IEP. You certainly would not have to permit her to re-enroll. Remember, re-enrollment is discretionary, and a participant who has been terminated for cause or has otherwise demonstrated an unwillingness to abide by the program's rules is not entitled to a second enrollment. Furthermore, if the participant has worked a sufficient time to demonstrate that she is job-ready, she would no longer be eligible for re-enrollment.
27	90-day date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In order for the participant to exit for purposes of the Common Measures, the participant must not have received any program services (other than the specifically defined follow-up activities or services listed in the next field) for 90 days. See Form Heading 1 of the Exit Form Guide. • At the time of starting this form, compute the 90-day date so you will know when to check to see if the participant has received additional services. WebDCS will automatically provide this date. • A participant will have to be re-enrolled in order to receive additional SCSEP services within 90 days for purposes of this field.

28	Has the participant received any services from SCSEP within the first 90 days after exit?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For purposes of this field, only a participant who re-enrolls will have received SCSEP services within 90 days of exit. If “yes,” an exit has not occurred for purposes of the Common Measures, and the participant is excluded from the Common Measures. Follow-ups 2 and 3 are not required. • Additional services for purposes of the Common Measures do not include specifically defined follow-up activities or services. If the participant has received any of the following within 90 days after exit, check “no”: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ the payment of reasonable costs of transportation ○ health care and medical services ○ special job-related or personal counseling ○ incidentals (such as work shoes, badges, uniforms, eyeglasses, and tools) ○ child and adult care ○ temporary shelter • These follow-up activities are specifically authorized in the regulations for 180 days after exit in order to help a participant in unsubsidized employment achieve retention.
29 (Revised)	Follow-up 2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow-up 2 is solely for the SCSEP retention and Common Measures entered employment performance measures. Follow-up 2 should be conducted after a participant has been employed for 180 days and after the end of the first quarter after the quarter of exit. (If the participant exited during the last few days of a quarter, you may have to wait a few days after the 180th day for the quarter after the quarter of exit to close.) The performance system adds 30 days to the 180-day date and allows you to the end of the quarter in which the 210th day falls to complete the follow-up. Any follow-up completed by the end of that quarter (and at least 180 days after the start of work) is considered timely. • For self-employed individuals, you will also need information on SCSEP retention and Common Measures entered employment (any wages in first quarter after exit). • This follow-up may be conducted in person, by mail, or by telephone. • You will not need to conduct this follow-up or the third follow-up if you were unable to obtain employment information during the first follow-up or if you answered yes in field 28.
Topic 25 (New)	Follow-ups for participants with multiple employers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You must create a new Unsubsidized Employment Form for each job that a participant has during the follow-up period, generally the first 12 months after exit. No matter how many jobs the participant has, either concurrently or consecutively, you will only get credit for one placement and one retention per enrollment. In SPARQ, you can enter "no" many times for these measures, but you can only enter one "yes," even if the participant has multiple employers.

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • When there are multiple employers, the easiest way to do the follow-up is to start with the current employer at the time the follow-up is scheduled. If that employer can provide definitive information about all the measures that you are trying to capture in that follow-up, you do not have to contact previous employers. If the current employer cannot give you a definitive answer, then you contact the next most recent employer and keep moving back in time until you have gotten a definitive answer or have run out of employers. • Follow-up 2 is scheduled for 180 days after the earliest start work date or the first day of the second quarter after the quarter of exit, whichever is later. It captures both SCSEP retention (employed on day 180 after first starting work) and Common Measures entered employment (employed at any time in the first quarter after the quarter of exit.) • For example, assume the participant exited on September 20 (Q1 PY 2005) and immediately went to work for Employer A. On January 25 (Q3 PY 2005), he leaves Employer A for Employer B. He is still employed with Employer B. Follow-up 2 would be scheduled for March 19 (Q3 PY 2005), 180 days after September 20, the earliest start work date. (The first day of the second quarter after the quarter of exit would be January 1.) • You would begin Follow-up 2 with Employer B. Employer B can definitively tell you that the participant was employed on day 180, so you have achieved SCSEP retention. You enter "yes" in field 29d. However, Employer B says that the participant did not start working there until January 25, which is not in the quarter after the quarter of exit (October 1-December 31, Q2 PY 2005). You now go to Employer A to confirm that the participant was working there at any time during that quarter. This gives you Common Measures entered employment, which is entered into field 29c. You do not ask Employer A about SCSEP retention because you have already disposed of that with Employer B. You have completed Follow-up 2. • In the WebDCS, you only need to fill in the follow-up information that is required for each employer. You can leave the other fields blank and ignore the missing data messages you get, or you can enter "no" and avoid the missing data messages. The QPR treats blank measurement fields as "no" once the time for doing the follow-up has passed.

Topic 26 (Revised)	Follow-ups for participants who do not achieve placement but continue working beyond the 90-day date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Some participants may not achieve their 30 days of employment within the first 90 days of exit (because, for example, they started their employment several weeks or months after exiting or they had a break in employment) but may continue working beyond the 90 days. These participants have exited the program and will be included in the Common Measures even without a SCSEP placement. • There are at least three separate issues involved in their follow-up: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. An exit can occur for many reasons unrelated to placement. Follow-up is required for those participants who exit for unsubsidized employment or who become employed after exit. How much follow-up you do depends upon whether the participant achieves a placement (SCSEP) or enters employment (Common Measures.) 2. For SCSEP purposes, if there is no placement, there cannot be retention so you would not have to follow a participant beyond 90 days for that purpose. SCSEP retention is determined at Follow-up 2. 3. For Common Measures entered employment, however, you need to determine whether the participant has any wages in the first quarter after the quarter of placement. If the participant has wages in this quarter, then regardless of whether there has been a SCSEP placement, the participant is in the pool for the CM retention and average earnings measures. Therefore, you would also need to do Follow-up 3 to obtain the data needed to complete those measures.
29a	Scheduled date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For participants who achieved a placement, this date is 180 days after the participant first started unsubsidized employment (following exit from the program) with any employer or the first day of the second quarter after the quarter of exit, whichever is later. For participants who did not achieve a placement but who continue working and are part of the Common Measures entered employment cohort, the scheduled date is the first day of the second quarter after the quarter of exit. • You should enter the date into this field when the form is first filled out so you will know when to conduct the second follow-up. 29c	Any wages for first quarter after exit quarter? Please also indicate method of verification	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Indicate whether the participant received any wages in the quarter after the quarter of exit. • For these purposes, do not consider the quarter in which the participant first exited. For example, if the participant exited and entered employment on July 24, the quarter after the quarter of exit would be October 1-December 31. • If the participant had wages, you will usually check box vi. Only those grantees with permission to use UI wage records will check any of the other boxes. • Check box vii to indicate if you were unable to obtain information about employment or wages from either the employer or the participant. • If you discover that the participant qualifies for one of the exclusions discussed in field 6 of the Exit Form Guide (deceased, medical condition, family care, or institutionalized), check box viii. The participant will then be excluded from the relevant performance measures and will not count against your performance. You will not need to conduct Follow-up 3 with this employer. • Complete this field for self-employed individuals. • This field determines if the participant entered employment for purposes of the Common Measures. • If you were unable to obtain the information, the exit will not be counted as an “entered employment” under the Common Measures, and the retention and earnings gain measures will not apply. You will not need to conduct Follow-up 3.
29d	Employed on 180th day after placement?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Check the appropriate box to indicate whether the participant is employed with this employer 180 days after the date on which the participant was first placed. This will be used for the SCSEP retention measure. • Retention is a snapshot taken on the 180th day after a placed participant first started work. If the participant is on the payroll of any employer on the 180th day, then there is retention. • If there are multiple employers, only check “yes” for the employer with which the participant is employed on the 180th day. SPARQ will allow you to submit multiple records with “no” in this field but only one record with “yes.” • The participant need not have worked continuously for any number of days or actually be working on the 180th day. 		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You do not complete this field if the participant has re-enrolled in SCSEP after achieving a placement but before the 180th day after the start of employment. In that case, the retention will count as a failure. • If you checked box vii in field 29c (indicating that you were unable to obtain the information), leave this field blank. The exiter will be counted as having failed the SCSEP retention measure.
Topic 27	Temporary employment and retention	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For retention, as for placement, temporary work only counts on days when the participant is actually working and getting paid. Therefore, even if a participant has been working fairly regularly in a temporary assignment, there will be no retention if the participant is not actually working and being paid for work on the 180th day after the participant first started any unsubsidized employment. • The corollary of this rule is that temporary employment may be used to establish retention for a participant who had previously been working in permanent employment. For example, if a participant established a placement in permanent employment but was then laid off at day 40, the participant could achieve retention solely by working in temporary employment for a single day on the 180th day after first starting employment. • For temporary employment, if the 180th day falls on a weekend or a holiday when the participant is not working, make the determination on the next business day.
30 (Revised)	Follow-up 3	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow-up 3, which is solely for the Common Measures retention and average earnings measures, is scheduled for the end of the third quarter after the quarter of exit. Because you must wait for the third quarter to end to have complete wages for that quarter, you will wind up doing the third follow-up at least a week or two after the close of the third quarter – i.e., sometime in the fourth quarter after the quarter of exit – and you must complete the follow-up any time during that quarter. • This follow-up may be conducted in person, by mail, or by telephone. • You do not conduct this follow-up for self-employed individuals to determine if they had any wages in the second and third quarters after the quarter of exit, but you do not record the amount of earnings in the second or third quarters. • This follow-up is not required for any participant who received SCSEP services within 90 days of starting employment. This follow-up is also not required if you were unable to obtain employment information from this employer during the second follow-up.
30a (Revised)	Scheduled date	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This date is after the end of the third quarter after the quarter in which the participant exited – i.e., the first day of the fourth quarter after the quarter of exit. For example, if the participant exited the program and entered employment on July 24, the third quarter after the quarter of exit would be April 1-June 30. The follow-up should be scheduled for July 1.
